Dear Sir,
I want to extend my congratulations to you on the splendid article in Lancaster Farming, "Who is to Blame for Surpluses." You did a wonderful job and covered the situation very nicely.
This is a terrific problem, and I wonder if dairymen can afford to sit back and expect the government to settle their problems for them or must they do more for themselves through their own organizations.

I believe you will see more milk history written in the next two years than has taken place in the last ten years. The milk hearing now being held in Philadelphia may be very critical.

With kindest regards,
S. A. Horton,

4-H Tractor,
Handyman Clubs
Hold Roundup

Prizes were awarded in the 4-H Tractor Maintenance club and the 4-H Handyman Club at a roundup of the two clubs last week in the Farm Bureau Cooperative building.

In the first year group, Daniel Rohrer, Manheim R1, took the top prize followed by Robert Blecker, Sheridan R1 and Jay Wissler, Landisville.

Richard Buckwalter, Lititz R3 was tops in the second year program. He was trailed by Nelson Martin, Ephrata R1 and Kenneth Lapp, Ronks R1.

David Zimmerman, Reinholds R1 was the winner in the third year competition.

Handyman, Richard Warfel, Conestoga R1, was named champion in that club with his exhibit of a coffee table Jay and Gerald Harnish, both of Willow Street R2, were second and third respectively.

An explanation of the function of the four-cycle gasoline engine won David Zimmerman, Reinholds R1, and Stanley Leininger, Denver R2, the top club tractor demonstration, followed by Buckwalter, who out-ed the working of the distributor.

Judges for the tractor projects and demonstration contest were two York County 4-H tractor club leaders, Ralph Snyder and Ross Markley, and Burton Horn, Pennsylvania State University Extension Service agricultural engineer.

Top tractor and demonstrator champions were awarded electric drills by the Lancaster County Implement Dealers Association.

Horn told tractor club members the state 4-H tractor program would be revised next year and extended to a four-year plan.

He also said the 4-H tractor driving contest will eliminate the district finals this year, permitting all county winners to compete for the state championship during Pennsylvania 4-H Days at University Park next August.

The tractor clubs have scheduled a tour March 25 of the Caterpillar Co., York

Since 1950, the number of milk cows in the United States has declined 4 1/2 million, but the milk supply continues at a record rate. Average milk production per cow has increased from 5,314 pounds a year to 7,004 pounds.

Market Egg Producers!
Get Off to the Right Start!

Remember the saying,

"The Way the Twig is Bent!" . . .

Well, that applies to your pullets raised for replacements in the laying house. Next summer's egg production costs and your flocks performance will be determined by the way you feed and manage your replacements right now. A cheaply built feed or a poor program will NOT save you money. Only top production, low feed conversion and low production costs per dozen eggs will pay off.
