

More Insurance Needed For Farm Recreation

Farmers who provide recreational facilities for fee-paying guests are reminded that primary personal liability policies does not cover these facilities, in a report issued today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

This report, prepared in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service, discusses the liability involved in operating such failities, and the type of insurance that will provide financial protection against that liability.

A free copy of the publication, "Liability and Insurance Protection for Farmers Who Have Income-Producing Recreational Facilities," ERS-120 is available from the Division of Information, Office of Management Services, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.

Hunting License Rates Change

Resident hunters, 12 through 16 years of age, and 65 years and older, would pay $3.20 for a hunting license, under revised Bills cleared to the House by the Committee on Game and Conservation.

Resident hunters, 17 through 64, would pay $5.20. The present fee is $3.15, with $3.00 income to the Commission, and 15c retained by the issuing agent. Under the proposals ready for House action, the agent's fee is increased to 20c.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission has indicated its concurrence with the House Committee on the amended versions of the proposals to increase fees. While the income from these revised proposals will not be as great as derived from a $5.20 fee for all resident hunters, youths and older hunters will benefit. Retaining the lower fee for youths may add incentive and encouragement to interest them in hunting as healthful outdoor recreation. Some retired persons, who otherwise may have "hung up" their hunting gear, will also continue to enjoy days afield under the same fee.

Farm Women 5 Plan A Trip

Plans were made for a bus trip to Ocean City, N. J. on August 22 at a recent meeting of Farm Women Society 5 in the United Church of Christ, East Petersburg.

Mrs. A. H. Weidman and Mrs. Graybill Longenecker, both of Manheim R1, are in charge of reservations. Busses will leave the Church of the Brethren and the Manheim Auto Auction at 6:30 a.m.

Miss M. Jane Thurston, extension home economist spoke on "How to be a Good Hostess". Members answered roll call with "My Favorite Beverage". Mrs. George Hess was hostess.

On Thursday, Aug. 15, members of Society 5 and Society 6 will provide treats for guests at the Lancaster County Home. On Saturday, Aug. 17, Society 5 will provide refreshments and chaperons for the USO dance.

The 24 societies will hold a family picnic Wednesday, July 24, at 12:30 p.m. in Long Park.

Society 5 will meet Saturday, July 27, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harry Hershey, 118 S. Broad St.

Farm Women 5 To Entertain

During the month of August members of Farm Women Society 6 will join with members of Society 5 to entertain guests at the County Home on August 15 and with members of Society 8 to help at the Migrant picnic on Saturday, August 24 at the Florin Church of the Brethren.

At a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Charles Rife, members voted to contribute $100 to the Lancaster Child Development Center.

Mrs. Harry Saylor presided at the meeting and Mrs. Laura Snyder led devotions. Members responded to roll call with a joke.

Next meeting of society 6 will be held Friday, August 2 in the form of a family picnic at the Milton Grove Sportsmen Club.

Peach Crop Is Below Normal

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania's 1963 peach prospects were estimated today by the state's Crop Reporting Service at 1,500,000 bushels for the smallest crop in 20 years. This estimate was not much over half of 1962's crop of 2,600,000 bushels, or the 1957-61 average of 2,660,000 bushels.

The sharp reduction was caused by winter damage and spring freezes that practically wiped out the crop in western and northern counties, including Erie county. Less severe damage occurred in the Berks-Lehigh and Adams-Franklin county areas.

Extensive damage from cold reduced the state's sweet cherry crop to an all-time low. Production is estimated at 200 tons, only one-fifth of last year's crop of 1,000 tons and the 1957-61 average of 960 tons. It is estimated at 100,000 bushels, compared to 120,000 bushels last year, and the 1957-61 average of 118,000 bushels.
