

Deadlines Set For Farm Show

HARRISBURG — Approaching deadlines for entries and keen competition for limited space have been spurring a "rush business" by prospective exhibitors at the 48th Pennsylvania State Farm Show next Jan 13-17.

Horace L. Mann, director, said the biggest demand was coming from dairy farmers, many of whose cattle have been turned back in recent years because of lack of space. Now nearing its own half-century mark, the Farm Show will feature golden anniversaries by two of its member organizations.

The two organizations, the Pennsylvania Society of Farm Women and the Pennsylvania Holstein Association, will celebrate 50th anniversaries. Both will have special programs, according to V. A. Houston, State College, who reported for the dairy group, and Mrs. Elmo Mentzer, Carlisle, who represented the farm women.

Most farm entries close Nov. 18, final day for draft horses, breeding sheep, open class market lambs and dressed carcass lambs, swine, beef cattle, dairy cattle, most poultry and Folk Dance Festival (4-H market lambs and poultry bread meets, turkeys, 4-H capons, vocational poultry, and broiler and roaster chickens have until Dec. 7).

Other closing dates: Nov. 30, 4-H insect exhibits, Dec. 2, 4-H and FFA tractor driving, and collective apiary exhibits, Dec. 14, horse and mule pulling contest, Dec. 20, producer-dealer quality eggs, Dec. 28, 4-H sheep blocking and grooming, Jan. 6, 4-H potato grading, Jan. 10, individual apiary exhibits, Jan.

Fulton Grange Committees Are Appointed

Fulton Grange No. 66 was honored at the recent State Grange convention held at Erie, Pa. by receiving a $50 savings bond for their Community Service during the year.

Mrs. Delmar Spencer's knitted socks won first place in the needlework contest and will be entered in the National Grange contest. Mrs. Charles Reed's oil painting and Mrs. W. Harold Graybeal's charcoal drawing placed third in the State art contest.

A debate "Shall Pennsylvania have a Constitutional Convention" was the main feature of the program at the 11, small grains, potatoes, hay, grass silage, tobacco, wool, baby chicks and poults, 4-H and vocational corn, and home economics, Jan. 12, apples, edible nuts, sugar maple products, Christmas trees, dressed turkeys, and eggs other than producer-dealer classes, Jan. 13 (opening day of the show), vegetables.

State Agriculture Secretary Leland H. Bull, whose department conducts the big indoor farm event, said the 1964 theme will be "Forward with Agribusiness, Pennsylvania's Major Industry."

last meeting of Fulton Grange. Affirmative speakers were: Charles Tindall Sr. and Miss Mabel Brabson and Negative speakers were: Mrs. Delmar Spencer and Norman Wood. Mrs. Ralph Armstrong had an Amulet and J. Robert Reed gave a reading. The Lecturer, Charles McSparran, conducted a game.

Philip Giffing was installed as a member of the Executive Committee. The Master, Gyles Brown announced his committees for this year: Home Economics Committee: Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. James Mullen, Mrs. Harold Alexander, Mrs. Joseph Sinclair and Mrs. Wilmer Carroll. Youth Committee: Mr. and Mrs. Ray McSparran, Mr. and Mrs. George Lamborn and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson. Legislative Committee: Mrs. Delmar Spencer, Thomas Galbreath and John Rush. Juvenile Grange Committee: Mrs. Charles Tindall and Mrs. Ambrose Giffing. Community Progress Committee: Miss Marie Murphy, Miss Jennette McCummings, Clair Murphy and Mrs. Ambrose Giffing. Hospitality Committee: Mrs. Ralph Armstrong and Mrs. Dennis Hess. Membership: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stauffer Jr. and David Wissler.

The Grange voted a donation to the Lancaster Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

The November 11 meeting featured a Corn contest in charge of Theodore Beck and a pumpkin and apple pie contest in charge of the Home Economics Committee. Mrs. Donald McSparran gave a talk on Interior Decorating and Thomas Bradley spoke on Fire Prevention. Mrs. Theodore Beck and Clair Murphy sang a duet and Mrs. Stanley Stauffer Jr. conducted games.

Inter-State

(Continued from Page 1) with reports of officers and management Wednesday (Nov. 20), followed by a banquet for 600 members and friends of the dairy industry at 6:15 p.m.

The banquet speaker will be Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, director of the School of International Studies at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., whose subject is "Free Enterprise or Disaster." Dr. Kenneth Hood, assistant secretary, American Farm Bureau Federation, will be toastmaster. Entertainment will be provided by Mary Burgess Madden, mezzo-soprano soloist, and a string quartet from Curtis Institute of Music. Mr. O. H. Hoffman, Jr., retiring general manager, will be honored at the banquet.

President Carter will open Wednesday's business sessions with his report to the delegates. Reports by Clara Gallagher, secretary; Florence Schultz, treasurer; Golden W. Davis, management assistant; Paul E. Hand, economist; and A. Evans Kephart, counsel, will occupy the morning session. In the afternoon, Inter-State manager James E. Honan will discuss the Cooperative's activities in the past year and its future prospects. J. Lin. Huber, chairman of the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission, also will speak.

Smoked Pork Butt

A smoked pork shoulder butt, sometimes called "cottage roll", is always a good buy, points out Catherine Love, Penn State consumer economics extension specialist. This compact piece of boneless, rolled pork is economical, easy to prepare, and similar to smoked ham in flavor and appearance. A boneless pork butt usually weighs 2 to 3 pounds.

THREE-BOTTOM SPINNER PLOW for D-17 Power

Now you can have the performance of an Allis-Chalmers 80-Series plow in a big 3-bottom spinner model designed specifically for the Allis-Chalmers D-17 Tractor. This new, deep-working plow is designed for depths down to 14 inches. It is available with special deep-plowing bottoms. Plow is revolved at the end of a new vane-type hydraulic activator. Plow rotates on bronze bushings. Rear gauge wheel automatically positions itself for both right- and left-hand bottoms. Furrow gauge wheels control depth of front bottoms. Plow is available either with SNAP-COUPLER hitch or category two 3-point hitch. Bottoms are protected by shear bolt action or by optional spring-trip beams. A similar 2 bottom spinner model is available for D-15 Tractors.

SNAP COUPLER is an Allis-Chalmers trademark.
