CHORE-MATIC

50,000 owners can't be wrong. They chose Chore-Matic. Because Chore-Matic is tested and proved. Because Chore-Matic is the originator of enclosed poultry feed conveyors. Because Chore-Matic combines the desirable features of hand feeding and automation to produce a feeder far superior to chain-type units. Ideal for all kinds of houses and bulk feed-handling systems, the Chore-Matic is available in single or multiple lines in lengths up to 350 feet.

Unique conveyor system—Heavy-duty spring steel auger revolves inside 18 ga. steel tube, moves feed uniformly to all pan outlets, no grinding or ingredient separation, no dangerous parts to injure bird or operator. Smooth, quiet operation.

20% more feed space per line—No picked over feed. Fresh supply drops into place soon as bird eats her share. No crowding when feeder turns on because feed distribution is uniform throughout the house. Pans are "all age" type, 13 inches in diameter. Special lip design and feed-saver guards minimize spill out feed waste. Electric anti-roost guard is standard equipment.

No maintenance problem—Simple direct drive virtually eliminates maintenance. There are no moving parts except auger itself. Constructed of heavy-duty galvanized steel and finest quality components.

Suspended from ceiling—Quick height adjustment. No sagging—uneven floors or rusty leg stands are no problem. For fast clean out, one crank takes whole system to the ceiling. Gives unrestricted bird movement.

Farm Women 10

Charter Bus To Philadelphia Show

Farm Women Society 10 will charter a bus to the Philadelphia show on March 11. The bus will leave the Lancaster terminal on East Chestnut Street at 7 a.m. Seats are available and anyone interested may contact Mrs. Frank Hoedeker, 907 Rohrerstown Road, Lancaster.

Announcement was made at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. William Fox and Miss Eliza Esben-shade, 1200 Wheatland Ave. Lancaster. Mrs. Clifford Shoemaker, president, conducted the meeting.

Roll call was answered by "a gift we can get". The program theme was "Missions at home and abroad", with Mrs. J. N. Byler of Akron, whose husband was a missionary, as the main speaker.

Valentines were gathered and will be given to the crippled children of Elizabethtown Crippled Children's Hospital. A donation of $15 was given to Heart Haven. A new member was welcomed Mrs. Lewis Bowser, Lititz R3.

Two women were appointed to buy material to make cancer pads. They are Mrs. Enos Royer and Mrs. Jacob Esben-shade. The next meeting will be March 7 at the home of Mrs. John McGrann, 25 Eshleman Road.
