Some Ways To Prevent Cuts In The Kitchen

Keep sharp knives in a knife holder—not loose in a drawer. When cutting vegetables, cut against a board. Don't hold vegetables in your hand to cut them. Wash and put away knives and other sharp cutting tools as soon as you have finished using them. Never drop them into the dishpan or sink because you or someone else may get cut as you put hands into the dishwater.

Use a can opener to open cans and jars. Never use a sharp knife—it isn't made for a can opener.

Pick up broken glass and china with a paper towel or napkin—not with your bare hands.

Put broken glass and china into a special container—never into containers with other refuse.

Some Foodshopping Guidelines

To be a budget-wise foodshopper, some hints to keep in mind are:

Read the labels to find out what's in the containers.

Compare prices of fresh, frozen, canned and packaged foods to see which ones give the most servings for the least money.

Buy food that is in good condition—firm, fresh vegetables and fruits, sealed packages, solid frozen food. Be sure meat, milk, butter, margarine, fish, cheese and eggs are refrigerated.

Select the largest size package or container that you can use without waste.

When you buy convenience foods, such as prepared mixes, you may pay extra for the work that's been done for you.
