

Recreation Boom

come, tourists, farm vacationers, or campsites probably offer the best opportunities, and these would probably better fit into the farm work schedule

To investigate the possibilities further a farmer should:

1—Take stock of his resources and choose the kind of enterprise suitable

2—Make careful estimates of costs and returns, investigate sources of financing, check legal requirements, determine if your plan would be feasible and profitable

3—Talk with your county agent, FHA representative, and SCS conservationist. Some of the things you intend to do may be eligible for cost-sharing. Your ASCS office can advise you on this.

Although there seems to be a real opportunity for a farmer with the right facilities and managerial abilities to profitably climb on this recreation "bandwagon," certainly the opportunities are not unlimited. Adequate records of costs and returns are not readily available, but some folks have reported on their recreation ventures in various parts of the country that "it pays our taxes"; or "we grossed as high as $3,975 in opportunity is there. Some our best year"; etc. But the will capitalize on it, and some "experts" conclude that the will not.

Airy Acres Milking Herd Dispersal

 At the Ass'n. Sales Pavilion, 6 Mi. East of Lancaster, Pa.
 26 Purebred and 26 Grade Guernseys
 A fall and winter freshening herd.
 14 Fresh in Sept.; 14 in Oct.; 9 in Sept.; 7 in Dec.;
 3 due in Jan. and Feb.
 T.B. and Bangs Cert. Vacc. Dehorned
 Dr. Webb, a well known, highly respected Veterinarian in Chester Co. all his lifetime, is forced to sell the milking herd he established 30 years ago because of ill health.
 The herd has been on DHIA, but because of lack of supervision the last several years, records are not fair to the potential of these good, sound cows.
 Production is higher right now than it ever was in this herd. They can do better under close supervision than they have in their present environment.
 You must see to appreciate them, you will get some real bargains.
 The early fall fresheners are bred back and all are in calf to a son of Liseter Brilliant, and out of Spar Hill Baguette (E-4x) Gr. Ch. All American Dairy Show, 1964; Res. AA Aged, 1964. 10380-512 Jr2DHIR305; 12250-640-Jr3DHIR305; 15180-773-JrHIR318; 16375-809-5HIR365. ('62-$6500).

It pays to feed heifers, dry cows the Purina Way!

Grain feeding of heifers and dry cows is an accepted practice by leading dairymen. They do it to make more milk . . . and more money. Many report 1,000 pounds more milk during the next lactation when a dry cow is properly conditioned on Purina D & F Chow. You feed it according to body weight . . . a thousand-pound cow, for example, needs only 10 pounds a day. Purina D & F—full name, Dry and Freshening Chow—is specially designed to help build body condition, which later converts to low-cost milk. You'll find D & F in coarse or pellet form, whichever fits your feeding situation best.

Either way, it's one of the smartest feed buys on the market today. Ask for it by name—"Purina D & F"—at our Store.
