Egg, Milk, And Meat Prices Continue Climb

An increase in milk prices, with the help of advancing hog and egg prices, overcame an across-the-board decline for grain prices, to increase the cash returns to Pennsylvania farmers for the fourth consecutive month according to the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service.

Milk prices climbed to $4.55 per hundredweight in mid-July from the mid-June price of $4.30. The price is 5 cents higher than the same period a year ago. The rise in price is a seasonal trend which results when milk production falls during the summer months.

Hogs prices at $23.40 per hundredweight continued to gain and are now on the highest level since July 1954 when the price was $24.00. The mid-July price is $1.10 above last month and $6.10 over the July 1964 figure.

July egg prices at $34 per dozen jumped 2 cents above a month ago and are on the same level as in 1964. While egg prices increased, prices for farm chickens remained steady. Broiler and roaster price fell slightly from .185 per pound in June to .180 in July.

All grain crops showed a price decline from mid-June to mid-July. Corn fell 1 cent to $1.44 a bushel, wheat at $1.31 fell 4 cents, oats declined 2 cents to 78 cents a bushel, and barley dropped from $1.01 to 93 cents a bushel. However, except for wheat which is one cent lower than a year ago, all the preceding crop prices are above the 1964 figures for the same period. Alfalfa hay at $34.50 was the only crop to show an increase in price from last month.

All Livestock prices, with hogs as an exception, declined. Steers and heifers dropped 50 cents per hundredweight from mid-June to mid-July to average $23.70. Calves at $26.40, fell 90 cents from a month earlier. Lamb and sheep prices also showed declines. Even with the monthly decline, livestock prices are still above the 1964 prices for the same period.

The Index of Prices Received which is a measure of the trend and change of prices received by farmers, was 236 percent of its 1910-14 base Marijane Eshleman, daughters of Mr and Mrs Kenneth Eshleman, Elizabethtown R1, won the fitting and junior showmanship classes, respectively.

Judy and Nancy Flory respectively captured the showmanship and junior fitting championships. They are daughters of Mr and Mrs Lloyd Flory, Lititz R2.

BROWN SWISS

Robert K Wanner, Narvon R2, showed the grand champion in the Brown Swiss breed. The two-year-old winning entry is named Castle Hill's Nassa. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs Guy Wanner.

Pennsylvania Flying Farmers . . . 4-H Club News

Mrs. Ruth Wilson, Nottingham, Pa., was crowned Penna. Flying Farmer Queen recently at Chester County Area Airport by retiring Queen Bertha Anthony, Rochester Mills, Indiana County, Pa. The Queen's court included Mrs. Wilson's three daughters, Lancaster County Dairy Maid, Miss Civil Air Patrol of Lancaster and several past Pennsylvania Flying Farmer Queens.

The new Penna. Queen is wife of Henry Wilson who operates a large dairy farm near Nottingham. They fly a 4-place Cherokee. Ruth has just passed her written examination and will have her private pilot's license soon.

Charles Raysor, Summit Aviation, Cessna dealer, Middletown, Delaware, presented the newly crowned Queen with a Cessna trophy and tiara. Each chapter Queen throughout the U.S. and Canada will compete in the International Flying Farmer Queen Contest in Omaha, Nebraska, August 8-12 sponsored by Cessna Aircraft Co. Queen Ruth will represent Pennsylvania in this contest.

The Aero Club of Chester County cooperated with Pennsylvania Flying Farmers in a joint program throughout the day. An aerial treasure hunt was conducted in the morning in which written instructions were opened at 400 feet elevation after the contestants took off from Chester County Airport. The contest involved careful identification of landmark areas in the county. Tom Keyes, president of the Aero Club, presented the awards 1st place — Richard Johnson, Kennett Square, Pa., with Thomas Taylor, Kennett Square, observer. 2nd place — Leebert L. Logan, also Kennett Square, Pa., and Doris Conklin, West Chester, as observer.

Following the day's activities, the group flew to the farm airstrip of David Huber, Peach Bottom, Pa. Mr. Huber is Vice President of the Penna. Flying Farmers Association. All enjoyed a barbecue picnic supper with roasted sweet corn after which a business meeting was held, followed by a showing of pictures of Flying Farmer activities.

● Hay Service

have hay to sell. Drought area farmers need to buy hay. Bringing these two parties together is the objective of the new PFA service. The service will be provided without charge to either sellers or buyers.

Listings Compiled

PFA members may list their hay immediately by notifying the PFA office at 21st and Chestnut Streets, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania. Those listing hay available for sale are asked to notify the PFA when the listed lot of hay has been sold.

The information on the lots of hay will be compiled into a listing and issued to prospective buyers.

PFA members desiring to receive the hay listings will be placed on a mailing list upon request.

The Pennsylvania Farmers' Association assumes no responsibility other than the passing along of information given by members. Prospective buyers are to deal directly with the prospective seller.
