

● All-American

(Continued from Page 1) and White events are combined with the All-American and each will have more than 500 entries.

Three national breed sales will be added events — Holstein, 8 p.m., Sept. 13; Guernsey, 7 p.m., Sept. 14, and Jersey 12:30 p.m., Sept. 15.

After the two preliminary events judging in the main All-American will start Wednesday at 8 a.m. for Guernseys and Ayrshires, Jerseys and Milking Shorthorns, and Holstein bulls will be judged Thursday; Holstein females and Brown Swiss on Friday.

Cash premiums will total $45,000. Admission and parking are free.

Herdsmen who excel in managing their exhibits and financial supporters of the show will be honored at a banquet, 7 p.m., Thursday, in the Farm Show hall. Joe S. Taylor, chairman of dairy extension, the Pennsylvania State University, will have charge of banquet ticket sales.

● Carcass Show

judged on a ham-loin percentage and meat quality basis; no certification will be required. Trophies for champion and reserve champion carcass will be provided by the association. There will also be cash prizes.

Any swine producer wishing to enter a pig in this contest is advised to send the $1 entry fee to Secretary, James Z. Martin, Christiana R1, by September 16.

An on-foot evaluation contest will be open to everyone to judge the meatiness of the competing hogs. Cash prizes will be awarded to those most closely matching the data of the carcass analysis.

● NEBA Merger

Vermont; New England Selective Breeding Association, Woodbridge, Conn.; New York Artificial Breeders Cooperative, Inc., Ithaca, New York.

Reasons for the study and resulting recommendation included, (1) A continuing increase in labor costs as well as other operational costs; (2) a continuing decline of total cattle population in the areas served by each cooperative; (3) Better use of advanced technology which permits much wider use of sires; (4) improved communications and transportations.

The recommendation of the NEBA Board will be presented to the members in a series of membership meetings throughout the entire area comprised of 48 counties in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Similar action is planned in each of the other cooperatives.

● Bankers

held by life insurance companies; $38 million by the Federal Land Banks; and $11 million in nonreal estate loans plus $13 million in real estate loans by the Farmers Home Administration.

About 74 percent of the production credit extended by lending agencies to Pennsylvania farmers came from banks, Musselman reported.
