

Lancaster Farming

VOL. 10 NO. 50

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, November 13, 1965

$2 Per Year

County Showmen Eclipsed At Livestock Exposition

In contrast to last year's sweep in the junior division of the Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition when Lancaster County showmen captured all three breed championships plus seven first, four second, and five third-place ribbons, this year's results were something less overwhelming.

Countians came away with one first, three second, and three third-place ribbons this year. The only class win went to a Red Rose 4-H Club junior yearling Hereford shown by Dallas Wolgemuth of Mount Joy R1.

Grand champion honors this year went to 11-year-old Bill Davis of Schellsburg, Bedford County. He topped the junior division show on Monday then went on to win the open class steer show on Tuesday. Young Davis, in his first year of show competition, handled his 960-pound, blocky senior calf like a professional.

Davis' most serious competition came on Monday when he had to counter bids for the title of the junior show by two breed champions, an Angus and a Shorthorn, owned by Richard Rishel of York. Davis also beat out a Rishel Hereford to top that breed. In the open class show (Continued on Page 3)

SWCD Directors Plan Details Of Annual Meeting And Set '66 Goals For Area Conservation Work

At their regular monthly meeting Monday night at the County Court House, the Lancaster County Soil and Water Conservation District directors announced that Charles Hess, state director of soil and water conservation districts, would be the speaker at the district's annual banquet meeting to be held on March 8 at the Blue Ball Fire Hall.

Three watershed meetings were planned for Churchtown area, December 7; Denver area, December 9; and Ephrata area January 20.

It was announced that directors Amos Funk, Aaron Stauffer, and Elmer Good, and county conservationist Wayne Maresch, will attend the state district directors' meeting on November 17, 18, and 19 at Sharon, in Mercer County.

Plans for 1966 were discussed with Boyd Kinsley, field director of the state soil (Continued on Page 3)

County Guernsey Breeders Plan Annual Banquet

The annual banquet and business meeting of the Lancaster County Guernsey Breeders' Association will be held at the Rhoad's Spanish Tavern, Quarryville, on Friday, November 19, at 6:45 p.m.

A ham dinner will be served at a cost of $2.50 per plate.

The business meeting will include the financial statement, reports of the committees and presentation of awards. Three new directors will be elected for a term of three years.

The speaker for the evening will be V. Lester Schreiber, New Holland, associated with New Holland Machine Company.

Delegates Present 89 Resolutions At PFA Annual Meeting; Issues Range From Taxes To Wheat

YORK — Delegates to the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association meeting at that organization's 15th annual meeting at the Yorktowne Hotel during Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week debated 89 resolutions, ranging from taxes to the government wheat program.

A certified roadside market program, action calling for orderly importation of mushrooms, and a recom-

GRAND CHAMPION STEER AT Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition was shown by 11-year-old William Davis of Bedford County, the youngest showman to ever win the event. Shown above with Davis is Jack Grey, Pennsylvania Deputy Secretary of Agriculture. L. F. Photo

Penn Manor Adult Farmer Class To Meet

The Penn Manor adult farmer class will meet at Martic Township Elementary School on Thursday, November 18 at 7:30 p.m., according to instructor Garland Gingrich of Penn Manor High School.

Kenneth Kreider, field supervisor for Atlantic Breeders' Cooperative, will discuss "Dairy Breeding Problems."

Farm Calendar

November 15—15-21, Pennsylvania Young Farmers' Week.

November 16—12 Noon, Federal Land Assn. of Lancaster and Lancaster Prod. Credit Assn. annual meeting at St. Paul United Church of Christ, Quentin, Lebanon County.

—12 Noon, Elizabethtown-Donegal 4-H Capon Club roundup at Hostetter's Banquet Hall, Mount Joy.

—7:29 p.m. Garden Spot (Continued on Page 13)

Garden Spot Young Farmers To Hold Class On Credit Nov. 16

On Tuesday, November 16, 7:29 p.m., the second night of the course entitled "Farm Mechanization with Materials Handling Equipment" will be held. The topic for the evening will be "Farm Credit Sources."

A panel discussion meeting is planned with the following specialists discussing the farm credit picture: Raymond Taylor, First Pennsylvania Banking & Trust; Carl Brown, Lancaster Production Credit & Federal Land Bank Association; William Weaver, The Blue Ball National Bank; Paul Whipple, Miller and Bushong, Inc.

Any farmer wishing to attend the course sponsored by the Garden Spot Young Farmers' (Continued on Page 5)

Pa. Holstein Assn. Plans 11th Annual Meeting Nov. 18 and 19

The program for the Pennsylvania Holstein Association's Eleventh annual Convention was announced recently by William C. Nichol, association secretary. It will be held November 18 and 19 at the Lycoming Hotel, Williamsport.

Convention delegates representing the state organization's 4440 members will be treated to tours of two Williamsport businesses, C. A. Reed Paper Products and Stroehmann's Bakery, Thursday afternoon, November 18. The evening schedule features a mixer program and entertainment sponsored by the host district consisting of Holstein Clubs of Bedford, Blair, Centre, Clinton, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lycoming, Mifflin, Northumberland, Snyder and Union Counties.

Dr. Harold J. O'Brien, As- (Continued on Page 13)

Farmer's Union Hears Wilson And Hoover

The Lancaster-Chester County Farmers' Union met at Solanco High School on Tuesday night to hear Dwyte Wilson, NFU national director of agricultural associates, discuss the effects of the new farm legislation on the eastern farmer, with particular emphasis on the dairy bill.

The other featured speaker for the evening was Rich- (Continued on Page 6)

Weather Forecast

Temperatures for the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, are expected to average near or a little above the normal range of 52 to 55 degrees. It will turn colder Sunday and Monday with milder temperatures thereafter.

Precipitation for the period may total 1/2-inch, occurring as rain on Saturday and scattered showers Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dr. Harold J. O'Brien