

YOUR LEGISLATOR'S REPORT

by Edwin D. Eshelman
Assemblyman

Several weeks ago the legislative leaders—Republican and Democrat—of the States met in a four day convention in Puerto Rico. Legislative leaders from 40 of the 50 States were in attendance. We had one afternoon—Friday—to ourselves for sight seeing, and the rest of the time was filled with sessions and workshops at the convention.

Sunday my return plane didn't leave until 6:00 P.M. so I had most of Sunday for a little sight seeing also.

The main themes of the sessions were:

"The Press Looks at the Legislature"

"The States and Their Future"

"Legislators: Posture and Image"

"Federal Aids and State Matching Fund Programs"

One evening we were the guests of the Mayoress of San Juan and another of the evenings we were the guests of the Governor of Puerto Rico. At the closing banquet on Saturday evening we had Senator Edward Kennedy as the main speaker. I found him to be very personable and a knowledgeable speaker.

It is amazing to find that the main problems we have in Pennsylvania are, by and large, the main problems of the other States also. Most

Royer Cow And Nissley Herd Top Oct. DHIA

Zsa Zsa, a registered Holstein cow owned by Herbert & Rhelda Royer, 2025 Oregon Pike, Lancaster, completed the highest 305 day lactation. She produced 26,534 lbs. of milk, 1,087 lbs. of butterfat with a 4.1% test. Second high lactation was completed by a registered Holstein cow owned by Charles Tindall, Peach Bottom R1. Luanda produced 20,662 lbs. of milk, 923 lbs. of butterfat with a 4.5% test in 305 days.

The herd of Paul E. Nissley & Son, Barnbridge R1, had the highest monthly butterfat average. This herd of 360 registered & grade Holstein cows produced 1,625 lbs of milk, 68 lbs of butterfat with a 4.2% test. The herd of J Mowery Frey Jr, Lancaster R7, placed second. This herd of 574 registered Holstein cows averaged 1,523 lbs of milk, 64 lbs of butterfat with a 4.2% test.

Seventy-two per cent of all persons between the ages of 15 and 20 read a newspaper each day. For ages 30-39, the percentage is 82 per cent, and from ages 40-54, the percentage is 83 per cent.

of the discussion and workshops centered around the problem of increasing taxation and what can be done about it; more technical and professional staff for State Legislative Committees; Federal erosion of States' powers and duties, and increasing the stature of state legislative bodies—House and Senate.

All and all, I found the sessions and workshops of the convention to be worthwhile, and I trust I am a more knowledgeable legislator because of my being eligible to attend the convention.

Inventory Of Furnishings Aids In Loss Claims

Could you remember everything your house contained if fire were to destroy it tomorrow?

Most insurance companies are so sure that you couldn't list all your losses that they provide inventory forms, says Mrs. Magdalene R. Foster, extension home management-family economics specialist of The Pennsylvania State University.

Taking inventory of household furnishings and equipment is time consuming the first time, but it's worth the effort. Once you have a complete inventory, it's easy to bring it up to date each year.

Take the inventory room by room, suggests Mrs. Foster. The date you bought each item and its original cost give an indication of the value that is essential in settling claims. Don't forget the contents of chests of drawers and closets, pictures, bedding, linens, and other items you take for granted.

Photographs, preferably in color, of each room will help if property is destroyed or stolen. Individual pictures of expensive items, such as the interior of a chest of silver or an antique of more than ordinary value, would be helpful, too.

Mrs. Foster advises you to put photographs and inventory in a safe place, such as a safe deposit box or a fire-proof box or safe at home. They will be valuable should you have to prepare proof of loss. With a complete inventory and pictures, you may stand a better chance of settling insurance claims to your satisfaction.
