TOBACCO QUOTA VOTE

Tobacco growers in the burley, Virginia-sun-cured, and Maryland areas voted approval of marketing quotas.

Pennsylvania cigar-filler tobacco growers (Lancaster County) voted disapproval of quotas for the third successive time since 1952. Preliminary tabulations indicate the Pennsylvania vote was 88 percent against quotas.

POULTRY CENTER BREAKS GROUND

A ground-breaking ceremony was held here for the new Lancaster County Poultry Center. Members of the Lancaster County Poultry Association and the Lancaster Poultry Exchange gathered for the ceremony at the site of their future home at the intersection of Roseville Road and the Route 230 By-Pass.

The time-honored Pennsylvania Dutch "barn-raising" method will be used by volunteer workers interested in the poultry industry in Lancaster County to erect the new Lancaster Poultry Center.

WELK OUTSTANDING FFA BOY OF YEAR

Robert L. Welk, Strasburg R1, was designated outstanding FFA boy of the year at the close of the Future Farmers of America mid-winter convention in Harrisburg.

Welk, who is president of the state FFA, operates a 75-acre farm, helps his father on the family's 85-acre farm, and has a part-time job with an implement dealer.

485 FARM SHOW AWARDS

Lancaster County upheld tradition by returning from the 1956 Farm Show with 45 championship trophies and 485 ribbons. Kenneth Rutt, Peach Bottom, was named champion of the 4-H showmanship contest.

Plan Center For Sewing An area where you can sew without having to pick up your equipment after each sewing job can save you time and energy.
 This is true whether you devote one room to your sewing center or just a corner of a room.

THOMAS

Decide on a suitable place is your first step in planning a sewing center. It may be part of your dining room, kitchen, or bedroom. But wherever it is, the sewing area should be away from the main traffic lanes in your house. This alone can save countless interruptions.

The amount of space you need for your sewing center will depend on the kind and amount of sewing you do for durability and gentle brushing power. Natural bristles absorb soil and hair oils and the sewing equipment you have and need.

The sewing center should have adequate lighting, electric outlets, and space to set up the ironing board and other equipment.

Because you need a large flat surface for cutting out garment pieces, you may have a table large enough for the job in a room other than the sewing center.

Some Guides
To Buying a Hairbrush
 A brush with soft bristles is good for polishing highlights into your hair, but a brush with short, stiff bristles is best for stimulating the scalp.

A brush should have good "bend recovery." This means the bristles should spring back quickly when you press hard on the bristles. Try this before buying a brush.
 Brushes that don't have good bend recovery soon become matted and useless.

To check the bristle ends, apply light pressure with the palm of your hand. If the ends feel too prickly, it means the brush can break delicate or color-treated hair and may injure a tender scalp.

Some brushes have both nylon and natural bristles tor durability and gentle brushing power. Natural bristles absorb soil and hair oils and the sewing equipment you have and need.

Once you find the right brush, buy two so you always have a clean one handy.

When Buying Oranges and Grapefruit, look for fruit that is firm and heavy for its size. Heavy fruit usually has the most juice. Look for a fine-textured skin, typical of the variety. The skin of some grapefruit may be light reddish-brown on the outside.
 Known as russeting, this color doesn't affect the flavor of the fruit. Oranges and grapefruit should be free from soft spots or bruises that can affect the flavor.

Syrup from Canned Fruit Has Hidden Dividend

If you're throwing away syrups from canned fruits, you're pouring money down the drain. You can use the syrup in many ways. Here are some of them:

Sweeten raw fruit or mix the syrup with a fruit juice for a breakfast or snack beverage.

Combine syrup with a
