Monday with two major companies represented in the field. One company was offering 32 cents for wrapper and 18 cents for filler leaf, while the other company instructed its buyers to pay 25 to 30 cents for wrappers and 16 to 18 cents for fillers.

A third firm was reported in the field on Tuesday offering a straight stripped price of 25 cents. The two companies represented Monday were back on Tuesday with the same price offers, and still looking for high quality leaf.

Wednesday found the three firms again out in the county. Prices remained the same as the day before except for a 2-cent drop in offered wrapper price by the company that had originally offered 32 cents.

Companies normally active in the county did not join the early trio of buyers, claiming they were not yet ready to buy.

Activity remained sluggish on Thursday, but a few more buyers reportedly entered the field. Prices offered for wrapper tended to stabilize at 28 cents, and filler held at 16-18 cents. It was reported that several companies continued their 25-cent straight strip offers.

But the emphasis remained on high quality leaf with many farmers reportedly resisting the lower-priced offers. As of press time on Friday, it appeared that a very small percentage of the bumper crop had changed ownership this week.

The 45.9-million-pound 1964 crop of Type 41 tobacco sold for an average of 27 cents per pound, according to the USDA. The 1965 crop has been estimated by that agency to total 48.6 million pounds.
