Reflections (Continued from Page 9)

Ten Years Ago

June, 1956

Nancy Newcomer, Poultry Queen — Nancy Newcomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Newcomer of Lititz R2, will reign during the coming year as Lancaster County's own Poultry Queen.

Miss Newcomer, topping a field of nine contestants, was crowned at ceremonies Saturday evening (June 9) at the Sixth Annual Broiler Barbecue in Lititz Springs Park.

Uncertain weather curtailed attendance somewhat, but even so, nearly four and one-half tons of chicken were served.

Thousands Pick Cherries At Shank Farm — Pickers by the thousands are working this week (June 29) on the excellent cherry crop produced along the historic Conestoga Creek by the H. L. Shank Farm.

Before the season ends, some 10,000 pickers may go home with 60 tons of white and dark sweet cherries, and tangy red pie cherries.

H. L. Shank has been operating his popular "Pick-them-yourself" program for the past 20 years.

Arthur Brown, Outstanding County Conservationist — Arthur E. Brown of Nottingham R2, Lancaster County's "Outstanding Conservation Farmer for 1955," will celebrate his 40th anniversary as an agronomy graduate of Penn State University this weekend (June 16).

Brown, who first looked upon contours as impractical, has in the past 18 years moved to the foreground as one of the county's top-notch men in that field.

Conservation on the 103-acre Brown farm, just south of Little Britain, is keyed to dairy production, and conservation has proved its worth to his satisfaction.

Ground Broken For Poultry Center — Ground for Lancaster County's new $30,000 Poultry Center was broken Thursday afternoon just as officials issued formal replies to a letter stating the Poultry Center would conflict with the proposed Community Center.

Directors and officers of the Lancaster County Poultry Association resolved that they would continue to support the idea of a larger Community Center for Lancaster County and City, and did not feel the Poultry Center was in any way in conflict with such an overall objective.

The plan is to proceed with the Poultry Center building.

Stauffer Farm Hosts 4-H Judges — As a preliminary to selection of livestock judging teams for State 4-H Club Week in August, about 60 farm youths and advisers from seven counties participated in an elimination contest Tuesday (June 19) at the Stauffer Homestead Farm, East Earl R1. Hampshire hogs, Suffolk sheep and Angus cattle, all registered, purebred stock on Stauffer Homestead Farm, offered subjects for the youthful judges.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. C. Groff, manager Earl Fisher, and herdsman John D. Arndt.

New PSU Experimental Farm Title Transfer — July 1 will be the official transfer date of the new Penn State University experimental farm north of Landisville where Tuesday (June 26) some 20 persons toured small grain plots and heard reports from experts in the field.

The residence on the farm will be converted into offices for the station staff.

Robert Kreider Heads 4-H Council — Robert Kreider, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Clyde Kreider of Quarryville R1, was named president of the Lancaster County 4-H Agricultural Council this week. At the same meeting Josephine Lausch was named president of the County Home Economics Council. Miss Lausch is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lausch of Denver R1.

Other agriculture council officers elected were Stanley Longenecker, vice president, Marian Graybill, secretary, Donald Moore, treasurer, Walter Augsburg, song leader, Joanne Gamber and Harold Frey, game leaders and James Hess news reporter.

Other home economics council officers named were William Roland, vice president, Ailene Heisey, secretary, Nancy Newcomer, treasurer, Audrey Musser and Betty Umble, game leaders, Esther Wolgemuth, song leader, and Lois Buckwalter, news reporter.

Egg Rules

(Continued from Page 1) modern enforcement of a state law — enacted in 1909 and amended in 1941 — that bans the sale, distribution and use in food products of eggs that are deemed unfit for human consumption.

The Secretary also said that enforcement of the law will be transferred from the department's Bureau of Foods and Chemistry to the Bureau of Markets.

The shift will provide greater efficiency, he said, since it will place supervision of enforcement activities under egg specialists. Bull pointed out that all egg specialists in the department now are employed in the Poultry and Egg Division of the Bureau of Markets.

Both the rules and regulations, and the transfer of enforcement responsibilities will be effective July 1.

According to one scientist, the human brain could store about 50 times more information than is contained in the 9,000 volumes of the Library of Congress.

GET A $15 ALLOWANCE

AND A MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE OF SATISFACTION

when you trade in your old water heater on an approved ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

Offer good May 16 — July 2

HERE'S ALL YOU DO:

Tell your electric appliance dealer or plumber you want to trade in your old water heater, regardless of type or condition, under PP&L's offer. (Most dealers and plumbers are participating in the plan. If yours is not, call your nearest PP&L office for the names of participating dealers and plumbers near you).

Take your choice of either a 40-gallon, or larger, quick-recovery water heater, or an 80-gallon, or larger, NEMA standard water heater. The dealer or plumber will then credit you with $15 toward the purchase price. He will remove your old water heater when he installs your new one.

When the installation has been certified by PP&L as being eligible for the Company's low-cost water heating rate, PP&L will give you its Certificate of Guaranteed Satisfaction, covering both cost of operation and performance for six months after date of installation.

CONSIDER THESE MANY ADVANTAGES:

You'll prefer heating water the flameless electric way because it's dependable . . . clean . . . automatic . . . safe . . . convenient . . . carefree . . . modern . . . and, best of all, it's economical under PP&L's low, low rate of only one cent a kilowatt-hour.

And, what's more, because your new electric water heater is flameless and needs no flue, it can be placed anywhere — in a closet, under the counter, in the basement or in the garage.

Install an electric water heater now while you can get the $15 trade-in allowance and PP&L's Guarantee of Satisfaction, and assure yourself and your family of all the hot water you need, when you need it.
