HARRISBURG — Seven dairy cattle experts, all members of the Agricultural Extension staff of the Pennsylvania State University, recently were named superintendent and breed representatives on the cattle committee for the third Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show, Sept. 12-16 in the State Farm Show Building.

Harold R. McCulloch, in his third year as manager of the show, said Harvey E. Shaffer will head the committee as general superintendent, a position he has filled also at the first two expositions. Assisting him will be six breed superintendents:

Ayrshire, Lawrence W. Specht; Brown Swiss, Robert J. Rugaber; Guernsey, Orville A. Yoder; Holstein, Donald L. Ace; Jersey, Dexter N. Putnam; Milking Shorthorn, Stephen B. Spencer. Yoder and Rugaber are county agricultural agents; the others, extension dairy specialists at the University.

Horace L. Mann, Farm Show director, who has charge of housing arrangements for the big show, said preparations are being made again to accommodate an overflow of entries in the main exposition hall. Plastic sheeting and durable roofing paper will be used to protect the tiled floor and give the animals secure footing.

Premium lists have been mailed to all former exhibitors, and show catalogs will be prepared following the August 15 closing date for entries. McCulloch, chairman. Mann, Shaffer and Cuthbert Nairn, Douglassville, comprise the premium and catalog committees.

If flies are about to drive your cattle crazy, then you better see us fast for

ORTHO DIBROM Fly Spray

If you're sick and tired of fooling around with weak, half-hearted fly sprays, then you're ready for DIBROM. Minutes after you spray, every fly that's been hit will be dead or dying. When DIBROM hits 'em, they stay hit. Even if they're resistant to other sprays.

DIBROM is registered to spray over and around cattle. In fact, Dibrom in emulsified form is even safe to spray on food crops, up to four days of harvest.

It's easy to use, comes to you ready-mixed and gives you real economy. Sure, it costs a little more than your pyrethrin sprays, but you'll find that it gives a lot better kill. So when all is said and done you wind up getting back a lot more of the money that flies have been costing you in reduced milk and meat production.

Come in and see us . . . we'll be glad to show you how to go after flies like you mean it . . . with ORTHO DIBROM.

For The Man Who Wants
BIGGER YIELDS

Settling for average grain yields is like putting an automatic half-hitch on crop profits.

Look at Pennsylvania's record for 1965. The average wheat yield was a record 34 bu. per acre, but good management and today's good varieties can produce 45 to 50 bu. Barley averaged 48 bu. per acre (also a record high) but some farmers are now growing 75 to 80 bu. on good soils. Oats averaged 46 bu. Good growers are harvesting 70 to 75 bu.

Ohio studies show that when wheat yields rise from 30 to 45 bu. per acre, cost per bushel drops about 24 cents simply because total crop expenses do not increase in the same proportion as yields.

Yes, there's plenty of room for yield improvement that can come from Hoffman proven varieties. Hoffman quality seed . . . plus good farm practices. Set your sights on grain yields that are considerably above average!
