

Chester County Youths Dominate Holsteins At 4-H District Show

In the 21st annual South-east Pennsylvania District 4-H Dairy Show, held last Friday at Hershey, Chester County entries dominated the Holstein breed competition.

More hot weather to come for the five-day period Saturday through Wednesday, says the weatherman. Temperatures will average above the normal range of 81 to 60 degrees. Little day-to-day change is expected, but it should be a bit cooler about Tuesday.

Scattered showers Sunday night or Monday hold prospects for ¼-½ inch of moisture for the area.

We chose electric heat because our son is still a baby

He needs the comfort of a warm, even heat that only electricity can provide. Even at bath time I know that I can add the warmth he needs in no time thanks to individual room thermostats. And we can keep the nursery warmer, too, without overheating the rest of the house. Another thing, we find electric heat is draft-free, so we can let him crawl on the floor without a worry. We're also happy with the cost of electric heat.

We recommend you go electric, too. IF YOU ARE BUILDING — Tell your builder you want to be modern, you want the best, you want electric heat. IF YOU ARE REMODELING — Call a Reddy Kilowatt Electric Home Heating Dealer for an estimate. He is listed in the Yellow Pages under "Heating Contractors."

In 1965, electric heat's growing popularity among PP&L customers was shown when 38% of new home buyers chose it for their homes.

MR. BUILDER — Build total-electric homes and you build what people want — and what will sell.
