Bixler Raps Cut To Dairy Co-Ops

A local dairy leader Thursday termed a recent decision by the Dairy Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to cut service payments to cooperatives "the most serious blow to dairy farmers in 30 years."

Lewis E. Bixler, president of the Mount Joy Farmers Cooperative Association, made the statement in regard to the proposed decision released by the USDA on January 19. The proposal came as the result of a hearing in July and August of 1965.

Bixler said that the decision to cut payments to cooperatives by more than 50 percent would "work an undue hardship on, not only dairy farmers' cooperatives, but all individual dairy farmers."

He said that while he was glad the decision did reaffirm the principle of cooperative (Continued on Page 3)
