

VOL. 12 NO. 16

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, March 18, 1967

$2 Per Year

DR. JOSEPH HARRINGTON, Penn State research agronomist, right, reviews some of the data he presented to Lancaster County potato growers Tuesday for associate county agent Arnold G. Lueck, center, and PSU experimental farm superin- cased, weighed, and hauled to tendent John Yocum.

Preliminary Potato Data Presented Planning Meeting Set To Lancaster County Producers

Research agronomist Dr Jo- were full of "good information" seph Harington from Penn Hairington described this re-State University reported to search as the "most extensive nesday, associate county agent and for young Bob Trout and vice president of Wirthmore, Lancaster County potato grow- potato project ever conducted eis, assembled Tuesday at the in Pennsylvania" Eight early, week Lancaster Farm Credit Build- 13 mid-season, and 21 late variing. on results of last year's tri- eties, were tested Each variety als on the Noah Kreider faim was repeated four times in the Dining House, located on New near Manheim

The trials, which featured 42 ulation six times. well-known varieties and experimental seedlings, had produc- acres devoted to this study on Show. ed some real meaningful data, the Kreider farm These were Harrington said. He cautioned divided into two plots, with eon guests of the Atlantic the growers against attaching about half the acreage on each Breeders Cooperative. too much importance to one- side of a bisecting road Potayear trials, but said the results trials, and each fertilizer form- Danville Pike, Plastow said,

(Continued on Page 5)

For Dist. Dairy Show

A joint meeting of all 4-H dairy club leaders and exten. an outfield wall ended a prom- and two in Pennsylvania sion agents of the southeast region will be held next Wed. reer with the Cleveland Indi-Victor Plastow announced this

The meeting will begin at 10.30 a m at the Meadow Hills and will be concerned with There were two and one-half planning the next District Dairy

The group will be the lunch-

Success Of 35-Year-Old Firm Based On Marketing Farm-Fresh Local Eggs

by Pon Timmons

to make a living as the Great Depression tightened its hold on the lard ing as E Roy Trout & Son, the ground Inc, employs 15 people - five management

Started by E Roy Trout in 1932, it is still owned and op-erated by he and his family Allied Acquires When farmers started bringing in their eggs back in those Some Wirthmore early days. the retail route rapidly gave way to a wholesale Retail Outlets egg business Local eggs were She now works in the office

ising professional baseball cahe entered the family business

BUSINESS GROWS

As the volume of eggs handled increased, so did Trouts' equipment An old, 8-12 case per hour grader that saw duty about 1956 was replaced with a last year, a major plant change firm's competitive position. was completed

The old facilities, consisting of two loading docks and a 40'x40' shed, were remodeled Thirty-five years ago a new and a 50'x70' building was addbusiness was born in Lancaster ed The addition, which houses County. It began with a retail the refrigerator and 35-case per egg route, a second-hand truck, hour egg grading and packing and the need to find a new way equipment, was built into a steep hillside. At the back of the new facilities only about two of the 11 concrete blocks Today that business, operat- of the wall can be seen above

It is expected that this inin egg processing, five truck the ground location of the egg drivers, and five in office and room will permit a higher lev-(Continued on Page 6)

It was arnounced this week The F. Photo Philadelphia. Trout's daughter, that Allied Mills, Inc. is acquir-Helen, started in the business ing certain retail operations forby trucking in farmers' eggs merly owned by Wirthmore Feeds Three of the acquired About 1950, a collision with properties are in New York

At a joint meeting Monday at Scranton. Robert Emmons, and J E Streetman, vice president of Allied. completed the details of the arrangement

The former Wirthmore sales personnel are being retained by Allied, a representative stated. According to Allied Mills' larger model, which was also management, this acquisition is later replaced In December of expected to strengthen the

Allied's \overline{W} a yne Feeds and (Continued on Page 4)

Crossbred Tops County Swine Assn. Spring Carcass Show; Cuts 45.6%

Topping this week's Springcass weight in ham and loin Carcass Show was a 202-pound The animal had a loineye of Hampshire-Yorkshire crossbred 62 square inches and an unbarrow, Lancaster County usually low backfat of 08 inch-Swine Producers Association es, Henkel reported plesident John Henkel told The reserve title went to a some 300 persons last night at 218-pound Henkel and Joe Lit-the association's annual ban- tle, Willow Glen Yorkshire enquet meeting at the Blue Ball try, with a ham-loin percentage of 436. a loineye measure-Fire Hall.

The champion hog, entered ment of 60 square inches, and by Real Farm, Tipton, Pa., cut 13 inches of backfat an unusual 456 percent of car-EVALUATION

Farm Calendar

Center

Hall

March 21-7:30 pm, Ephrata champion Farm Electricity Class, "Care According to Henkel, 47 peoand maintenance of electric ple submitted judging cards motors," at Ephrata H S. with their estimates of length, -7:30 p.m., Drumore 4H backfat, loineye, and ham-loin Community Club organizes at percentage for each competing

Chestnut Level Church House hog at the stockyard Monday (Continued on Page 10). (Continued on Page 8)

CONTEST WINNERS A ham from the grand champion hog went to top scoring March 20-7 30 pm, 4-H County judge in the on-foot evalua-Council at Lititz Community tion contest, John Strawbridge of Stewartstown. Placing close -8 p.m, Elm-Penryn 4-H Com- behind the winner was Leon L munity Club at Penryn Fire Arnold of Lebanon Arnold was presented with a loin from the

MRS. BETTY WEAVER tends the four rows of graded eggs, placing dozen cartons on top of each twelve eggs. It may be noted the eggs are upside down on the machine. As they pass over the end of the cartoning equipment, they are settled gently into the carton cups and turned upright on the lower belt, which is not visible in this picture. L. F. Photo