For Your Dryer . . .
Check the lint trap
The purpose of the lint trap is to trap lint that comes from the clothes as they are dried. To operate efficiently, the lint trap must be kept clean. Follow the instruction book for removing accumulated lint. When drying heavy clothing, check the lint trap after each load.

Sometimes lint collects in other parts of the dryer. This is a fire hazard if it builds up. So, inspect the dryer from time to time and keep it clean and lint free.

Spark up the flavor of macaroni and cheese with a dash of dry mustard or Worcestershire sauce added to the cheese sauce.

Solve closet storage problems with combination hangers. Each has space for several skirts, blouses, belts, or handbags. The hangers also help you keep neat, organized closets.

If your house has a fireplace, close the damper when it isn't in use. Warm air is drawn up the chimney when the damper is left open.
