The public is invited to attend both the supper and the worship service that consideration is being given to suspending some provisions of the Delaware Valley federal milk marketing order.

The proposed suspension would apply to the amended order which becomes effective June 1, 1967. If action is taken, it would allow pooling of milk produced under the Delaware Valley order diverted to a plant regulated under another federal milk order. Also, on milk diverted from a pool plant to a more distant plant, the suspension action would provide for pricing such milk f. o. b. the plant from which it is diverted.

The suspension was requested by the Inter-State Milk Producers Cooperative pending consideration of its proposals to modify these provisions at a public hearing. Inter-State represents a substantial number of dairy farmers serving the market, USDA noted.

The Delaware Valley federal milk order covers producers in the Philadelphia and Wilmington marketing areas, and most of southern New Jersey. The amended order recently converted the area from a handler pool to a marketwide pool basis.
