are critical moisture content, spoilage on top, extra storage and equipment may be needed and high moisture corn must be fed — you can't sell it, it's really a liability rather than a cash asset.

To store ear corn in the crib the specialist recommended a 4 foot crib width going up to 4½ to 5 foot if it is well oriented to the wind.

McCurdy said that in our local corn barns with cribs up each side and a drive floor in the middle, an air duct could be put in the drive floor and corn piled on top and dried in this way. He recommended it only as a temporary solution.

County agent M. M. Smith was in charge of the meeting. Another meeting of like nature was held at the Farm Credit Building Wednesday evening.

Holstein State Sale Averages $1,925 Dollars

The Pennsylvania State Holstein Sale held in conjunction with the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show in Harrisburg this week, had an average of $1,025 on 41 animals sold. Thirteen head sold for $1,000 or more and total receipts amounted to $42,930.

Top of the sale was No. 1 in the catalog, Woodbine Pearl Comet, a bull consigned by George Knight, Airville, Pa. Combining Ivanhoe, Reflection and Sovereign, the January calf sold for $5,100 to Harold and Roger Wolf, Movenic R2, Michigan.

Second high of the sale and highest selling female was Theoallen Hilda, sold by Allen Dairy Farm, Inc., Mechanicsburg, Pa., for $2,350 to Clarence Mowry, Roaring Springs, Pa. Hilda is a Good Plus 83 daughter of Ivanhoe with a two-year-old record of 17,098 pounds of milk and 741 pounds of butterfat with a 4.3 percent test.

County buyers included: B. Frank Eshleman, Manheim R1, $900 and $775; Charles Myers, 1500 Rohrerstown Road, $1,000 and $900; Titus M. Hurst, Lititz R3, $800; Daniel K. County sellers were J. Mowery Frey Jr., Lancaster, $850 and Elvin R. Hershey, Lancaster, $775.

Kauffman Heifer Now Wins All American Honor

The junior yearling heifer that has done so well for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kauffman and daughter Susan Ann of Elizabethtown R1, has won national honors.

Penn Springs Bill Topper, the black, smooth, stretchy 4-H heifer was reserve junior champion at the fourth Pennsylvania All American Dairy Show held in the Farm Show Building, Thursday. Topper also won at Hershey, The Junior Dairy Show and the Black and White Show held earlier this week.

A home bred animal, so was her dam and grand dam. In fact, Topper completes three generations of show winners. Her grand dam was Penn Springs Regal Lucy, a Very Good 87 point, Gold Medal daughter of Regal. Lucy was Reserve All Pennsylvania Junior Yearling in 1958 and produced as a five-year-old 20,527 pounds of milk and 772 pounds of butterfat and a 3.7 percent test.

The dam, Penn Springs Admiral Lucille, was All Pennsylvania as a junior calf in 1964 and has produced as a three-year-old 16,288 pounds of milk and 632 pounds of butter fat with a 3.8 percent test.

Maternal sister to Lucille was also reserve All Pennsylvania Junior Yearling in 1964.

The Holstein junior champion Thursday, was Romandale Genus Jessie, also a junior yearling.

SELECT TREE LOCATIONS

When you choose a spot for that new tree in your yard, don't forget overhead telephone and electric lines, sidewalks, sewer pipes, curbs, and driveways, say Extension ornamental horticulturists at The Pennsylvania State University.

Gerald Hess Named To Nutritional Post

Gerald H. Hess, a long-time Lancaster County resident, has been named nutritional coordinator for Youngco, Inc. of Roaring Spring, Pa.

Announcement of the new member of the firm was made by Russell F. Brown, president of the livestock nutritional supplement company.

The son of Paul M. Hess, Elizabethtown, Gerald is married to the former Helen Graybill, Manheim. He will have the responsibility for correlating feeding programs, assisting in product development and research, and in giving technical sales supervision to members of the Young's sales organization. A 1951 graduate of Elizabethtown High School, he farmed in partnership with his dad prior to entering Pennsylvania State University, where he received his B.S. degree in animal science and nutrition in 1961.

For the past six years he has been associate county farm agent in Northampton County, Pa.
