

Lancaster Farming

VOL. 13 NO. 52

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, November 23, 1968

$2.00 Per Year

John W. Scott

John W. Scott Now Head Of National Grange

John W. Scott, Mechanicsburg, who on Monday was elected master of the National Grange at its 102nd annual con-

(Continued on Page 8)

Inter-State Milk Members Back Increased Promotion

Philadelphia — Problems as general as the United States Import Policy and as specific as improved milk handling at the store level were discussed at the 51st annual meeting of Inter-State Milk Producers' Cooperative, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 19 and 20.

Dr. Carl S. Winters, world traveler and former head of one of the greatest Baptist churches in America, cautioned against the misuse of "drugs and such other devices" as an escape in this confused and unsettled period of our history, and said this "escape pattern" is of international scope and not only an American problem.

Speaking at the banquet for 700 persons, Tuesday evening, November 19, Dr. Winters said that "you," the people of this nation, are the people who have the ability needed to guide the world.

The 118 delegates, representing 3300 dairy farmers in Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, passed a resolution on Wednesday, November 20, recommending that Inter-State take the initiative to study the merging of cooperatives for the purpose of improving the dairy farmer's position in the marketing place.

Wilbur Seipt, president of Inter-State, opened the annual meeting by emphasizing to the

(Continued on Page 12)

Ayrshire Breeders To Hold Annual Business Meeting November 29

The Lancaster County Ayrshire Club will hold their Annual Meeting and Banquet on Friday, November 29, at the Lancaster Production Credit Building, 411 West Roseville Road. Starting time is 7:00 p m.

The banquet style is a covered dish luncheon. Participants are asked to bring one hot and one cold dish and own place settings. Beverages and ice cream will be furnished. Officers will be elected in the business meeting.

Entertainment for the evening will be slides of South America by Frank Wilson of the National Ayrshire Office.

County 4-H Four Win Livestock Judging At Eastern Nation Expo

Lancaster County 4-H Youths compiled 1,900 team points out of a possible 2,000 in the Interstate Livestock Judging Contest at the Maryland State Fairgrounds last week to carry Pennsylvania to the top of the

(Continued on Page 9)

ON THE DAIRY BARN REMODELING TOUR

(Left to right) Robert Clark, Quarryville R2 demonstrates his mechanical feed cart for Victor Plastow, Lancaster County tv Associate, Ag Agent and Roger Grout, Ag Engineer, Penn State. The Clark's feed their 97 Holsteins both short feed and silage in a matter of a few minutes with these mechanical carts.

Other stops on the tour Thursday, included Turkey Hill Dairy Farm, Conestoga R2, J.

Mowery Frey Jr. Farm, 401 Beaver Valley Pike; John Harsh Farm, 1036 Beaver Valley Pike, and James Kreider's Farm, Quarryville R1. About 60 dairymen went on the tour described by Grout as very successful.

L. F. Photo

ENTERS SECOND WEEK

Mystery Farm Contest

The much talked about and well accepted Lancaster Farming Mystery Farm Contest now enters its second week. As you know, the subscriber winning first prize will receive a personal check for $100 and second and third place winners will be awarded $50 and $25 checks respectively.

Be sure to enter each week. If you didn't know the farm last week try this one. If you did, you got a head start. At any rate, you or one of your neighbors will be receiving that $100 check just after the beginning of the new year.

A complete list of the contest rules and our address where you send your entries will be listed with the Mystery Farm each week. Be sure to follow them.

Last week's Mystery Farm from Southern Lancaster County

(Continued on Page 9)

Funk Named To Soil And Water Commission

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer sent to the State Senate Tuesday the name of Amos H. Funk, Millersville R1, for re-appointment to the State Soil and Water Conservation Commission.

The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

Funk was first named to the commission by Gov. William W. Scranton in 1963 and reappointed in 1965. Terms on the commission are for two years.

Also renamed a former member on the commission by the governor was Robert C. Lott of Aspers R1, Adams County. T. A. Decker of Jersey Shore, Clinton County, was nominated as a new farmer appointee, while two others were nominated as new urban members: Vernon K. Shaffer, Reading, and William D. Lange, Clarks Summit, Lackawanna County.

Funk, a veteran conservationist, is rounding out his 16th term as county chairman for the conservation group. A fruit and vegetable farmer, he received the Lancaster Kiwanis Club's Farmer of the Year award in 1967.

