having completed only 53 per cent of its assignments; the special gifts unit having turned in reports on 55 per cent of its prospects; and the farm gifts division showing 32 per cent of the rural canvassing completed. With this amount of coverage remaining, we are urging all our volunteers to complete their contacts in the coming week." Reports submitted thus far have come from each division as follows. Farm gifts $25,361.00; Major Gifts $16,800.00; Special Gifts $7,710.00; and Clubs and Organizations $3,632.00.

is directed toward bringing the capital indebtedness on the new Farm and Home Center down to a minimum of $40,000.00, at which point Foundation directors believe this amount can be managed out of operating income. The bulk of the cost of the Center, which approximated $500,000.00, has been met out of contributions received in previous public fund-raising efforts conducted since late 1964. While the Center has been operating only a year, it is being widely used by both city and county organizations. In addition, a great many individuals are dependent upon the services of agencies maintaining offices in the building.

For Variety

Dried fruits lend variety to the day's meals. These fruits can be eaten without cooking if desired. Some dried fruits may need to be washed before using but they don't need to be soaked before cooking, according to Mrs Ruth J. Buck, Penn State extension foods and nutrition specialist.

The Star Red Rose Chapter Farmer was Paul Eckman; Clair Witwer was the Star Chapter Farmer and Donald Breneman was named Star Green Hand.

In the Foundation Awards program, Breneman received the Public Speaking and Dairy awards, Eckman won the Crop, Livestock Horticulture, and Forestry awards, Robert Hess
