

Buying Fresh Produce rules or easy-to-learn guides. It takes experience to make good selections when shopping for fresh fruits and vegetables says Catherine Love, Penn State extension consumer education specialist. There are no set rules or easy-to-learn guides. The shopper needs to ask her self, "Is this the best buy for the way I want to use the food?" If it isn't then the produce is not a good buy no matter how low it is in cost.
