

THOUSANDS OF YELLOW DAFFODILS, woods, a stream and a summer cottage are features of this quiet summer spot on Mr. and Mrs. Elam Longenecker's Manheim R1 farm. The Longeneckers invite their friends each year to enjoy the beauty with them.

Stauffer Diesel Changes Location

Stauffer Diesel, Inc., formerly of Gordonville R1, announced their move to a new address at 312 W. Main Street, New Holland. The company was founded in 1949 by Amos Stauffer who started to sell and service small diesel engines and milk coolers.

In recent years it has been their policy to specialize in diesel engines and related items and equipment.

The New Holland location will be used to operate three separate but related divisions — Deutz diesel engines sales and service, Deutz diesel tractor sales and service and the manufacture of diesel powered mobile mining equipment.

PENRYN AND ELM

by Cynthia Shelly

The Penryn and Elm 4-H club held their meeting Monday, April 7 at the Penryn Fire Hall.

The club members decided to have a bake sale on May 9, starting at 5 p.m. and it will be held at Bomberger's Store, Elm, Pa.

A demonstration was given by Gregory Schell on wood working. This is called the Handyman Project. Mr. Victor Plastow held a question and answer discussion which pertained to all the club projects.

The next meeting will be held May 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Thousands

Elam planted the plantings 35 years ago with 30 or 40 bulbs. Now the more than 1800 visitors who signed the guest book last year from such far away places as California and Africa view thousands of the yellow spring flowers planted in clusters and stretched over a half mile along the creek. They are everywhere . . . across the hill slopes . . . along the edge of the winding stream . . . beside big rocks under old trees . . . in the meadow.

A kingfisher went flitting up through the nature paradise and several ducks sunned themselves along the quiet pond. You might see a cardinal or a squirrel or even a muskrat sliding down over his flattened pathway beside the babbling water falls.

Elam plants a variety of daffodils trying to mix the late and the early blooming kinds to give a longer season for his friends to enjoy. The peak of the bloom usually comes about the 15th of April. Open house on the Longenecker's Daffodil Hill is always a special occasion. Oh no, there is no charge. When you thank Elam for taking the time to give you a glimpse of his beautiful meadow setting, he somehow makes you feel you did him a favor by coming. You get the idea the Longeneckers simply like beauty and they like to share it. And they are amply repaid when people come and enjoy the annual spring flowering.

Sure you are invited too. They extend a special invitation.

The guest book lying on an old school desk on the cottage porch awaits you. If the weather permits, tomorrow might be a good day to sign it.

Prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for the month ended March 15 were unchanged from a month earlier. The Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service said higher prices for meat animals, poultry and eggs were offset by seasonally lower prices for dairy products.
