WATER KEEPS ROSES IN BLOOM

Summer sun and warmth bring roses into full bloom. Continuous flower production depends on a ready supply of soil moisture.

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on rose gardening, roses need a weekly soaking of the ground. Apply water directly to the soil as with a soaker hose. Keep the foliage dry. Wet leaves and stems lead to disease damage.

Mulch rosebeds with peat-moss, wood shavings, cocoa bean hulls or similar material. Put it on before hot, dry weather comes. Make the mulch two to four inches deep and keep it pulled back from bases of plants.

Remove faded flowers and seed balls. Seed production is a sign to the plants that flower bud growth is to stop.

Feed the plants after the first heavy flower bloom. Use three pounds of 5-10-5 fertilizer to each 100 square feet.

Spray or dust for insect disease control. Do it weekly.

Study the correspondence course to learn more about roses. Send your name and address with $1.85 to Roses, Box 5000, University Park, Pa. 16802. There are no other charges and a complete course copy comes to you by mail.

NEW Purina Dairy Conditioner Special can prepare cows for good production at low cost

If you're not among the many good local dairymen who have started mixing NEW Purina Dairy Conditioner Special with your own grain to build a research-proved dry cow ration, it can pay you to check into this low-cost way of feeding dry cows.

New Purina Dairy Conditioner is a 16 percent protein ration, fortified with extra Vitamins A and D plus phosphorus to help guard against milk fever.

To help you save on dry cow feeding, Purina Research recommends varying feeding levels, depending on cow condition and the quality of your roughages. For example, if a cow is in good condition and your roughages are of excellent quality, you would feed less Purina dry cow ration than if the cow were in only fair condition and if the roughages were of only fair quality.

ration, combining New Purina Dairy Conditioner with your grain. Or, if you're feeding low-protein roughages, it may pay you to feed Dairy Conditioner "straight"—just as it comes from the bag.

More and more successful area dairymen are proving that good dry cow feeding pays off in extra cow condition—and extra milk production in the next lactation. For example, 100 to 200 pounds of additional body weight at freshening can pay off in 1,000 to 2,000 pounds of extra milk during the lactation.

Drop in soon and get your free copy of the Purina Dry Cow Program folder. We'll be glad to point out how new Purina Dairy Conditioner Special can help prepare your dry cows for good production at low cost.
