Watch 'em go for...PURINA!

Horses really go for Purina. Now you can choose from two great Purina horse feeds—new Purina Horse Chow Checkers with built-in hay or Purina Omolene, a favorite of horsemen for almost 50 years.

Purina Horse Chow Checkers are a revolutionary idea in feeding horses. The hay is built in, eliminating the fuss and muss of hay. For those who prefer to feed hay there's the horsemen's standby—Purina Omolene.

We offer both of these research-developed Purina horse feeds in handy 50-lb. bags at our store with the Checkerboard Sign.

PFA President Says Farmers Have Stake In What Happens In Pa. Assembly And U.S. Congress

Farmers have a great stake in what happens in the Pennsylvania General Assembly and the U.S. Congress, declared John R. Pitzer, President of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association (PFA), in his annual report this week at the organization's 19th annual meeting. The general farm association held its four-day convention at the Penn Harris Motor Inn in Camp Hill.

The farm leader cited victories for farmers in the Pennsylvania General Assembly on such issues as the right of individual farmers to vote on the Proposed Milk Marketing Development program as opposed to bloc voting; frozen dessert regulations, solid waste disposal regulations; placement of snow fences on fields with unharvested crops, and the defeat of efforts to license and tax farm production equipment.

Pitzer, an apple grower in Aspers (Adams County), reported a membership growth in the Farmers' Association with more than 2,598 new members. Total membership in the general farm organization is 11,545 family memberships in Pennsylvania with 46 county affiliates. PFA is affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation. He also reported that Jefferson County started a new county association in 1969.

"Economic services of the organization experienced continued expansion," the farm organization president said. PFA has affiliates for contract marketing of farm products, a complete record keeping service, supply purchasing and a full line of insurance.

He announced that PFA is purchasing an office building for the state headquarters of the organization. He said the property is located near the Camp Hill bypass and is the former office of Irwin's dairy

At a county president's dinner Monday evening, Arthur H. West, President of the New Jersey Farm Bureau and a member of the American Farm Bureau Board, told the group. "It seems perfectly clear to anyone who thinks clearly about it that our failure to achieve our economic goals in agriculture lies not in the lack of government programs in agriculture, but probably in the existence of too much dependence upon government programs that have been ill conceived, ill administered, and doomed to failure. The only beneficiaries have been the hordes of government employees who lived at our expense, and consumers who continue to enjoy the benefits of cheap food at our expense."

He called for the development of an effective power within the market place for farmers through their own organizations and not through government.
