Pennsylvania Is Second In Ayrshire Numbers

Pennsylvania ranks as the Nation's number two Ayrshire state in numbers of Ayrshire cattle registered. New York is first and Ohio is third. Ayrshire breeders note that recent milk production records of two Ayrshire cows (on twice a-day milking for 305 days) are tops for four of the five major dairy breeds and very close to the other breed.

The latest is Fairdale Betty Gem, a registered Ayrshire cow that made 32,250 pounds of milk at Meredith Farm, Topsfield, Mass. This record surpasses that of the previous record holder Indian Lake Lady Diane who in 1969 made 31,190 pounds of milk and 1198 pounds of butterfat, also at Meredith Farm.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Congressman Edwin D. Eshleman

16th District—Pennsylvania

The anti-pornography campaign has long been in need of some legislative action. As I pointed out in a column not too long ago, the Nixon Administration has launched an intensified campaign against obscene mail.

But the administrative activity has needed some new legislative authority to make it really effective. I am pleased to report that just last week the House of Representatives passed a bill that would aid the efforts to curb the flood of filth in this country.

The House-passed bill is not everything that everyone wanted. It is not as tough as the two bills that I introduced earlier in this Congress. Nor does it grant all of the crack-down authority which the Nixon Administration had originally requested. But it is a good bill which should do much to stop the growth of an insidious industry — mail-order trade in smut materials.

Basically, what this legislation says to the smut peddlers is that while they have "freedom of the press" the public also has a freedom — freedom of rejection. From now on, an American citizen will have the privilege of determining whether or not he wants to receive what the pornographers print.

The anti-smut bill has two general provisions. First, it provides for the maintenance by the Postmaster General of a register of the names and addresses of those persons (and minors they are responsible for) who object to receiving sexually oriented advertising through the mail. The people on that register would be legally protected from pornographic mail. A heavy burden of responsibility is placed right where it belongs, that is, on the filth peddler who would be required to check with the Postmaster General's list before making a mailing. Violation of the law would result in prosecution by the Attorney General of the United States.

The second provision is designed to protect those under age 17 from mailings of obscene material. A special category of nonmailable matter is established which prohibits carefully defined materials from being sent to minors. This provision conforms to President Nixon's request of last year for Congress to make mailing sexually-oriented material to young people a Federal crime.

I must caution that this House-passed bill is not yet law. It must be considered by the Senate and signed by the President before it can go into effect. I would hope that the Senators will not take too long to complete their deliberations. And, I am confident that this legislative action against pornography will be signed quickly by the President once it leaves Capitol Hill.

Children Need Outdoors After Long Cold Winter

Encourage your children to spend a lot of time outdoors during the warm spring days that are ahead. Children are full of excess winter energy and need to exercise vigorously, says James E. Van Horn, extension family life specialist at The Pennsylvania State University.

After a brisk period of outdoor exercise, your child will bring some of their enthusiasm indoors. But don't be surprised if they don't settle down right away. It's hard for children to make the transition from active play to quiet-time. Give them an opportunity to tell you what they did outdoors, Mr. Van Horn advises.

With some planning on your part, your children can be full of new life after the seemingly long winter that may have kept them indoors for many days at a time.

Sutan[®] + atrazine lets your corn grow free

Your corn grows free from all major grasses and weeds. Free from the growth stress that weeds cause. Free to develop strong, vigorous roots that reach down to make maximum use of soil nutrients and moisture. Free from extra cultivations, possible root damage and free of trashy fields at harvest time.

This season, use dependable, economical Sutan plus atrazine on all your corn acreage. Stop the toughest grasses and weeds — nutgrass, wild cane, foxtails, fall panicum, Johnsongrass seedlings, crabgrass, annual morningglory, lambsquarters, pigweed, ragweed, nightshade and others that lower your profits. Mix Sutan plus atrazine in the soil as you prepare your seedbed. There's no need to depend on unpredictable rainfall to move the herbicide into the weed seed zone. Sutan and atrazine will be waiting to control weeds as they sprout. Used as directed, Sutan controls weeds without leaving harmful residues in the soil. Free yourself from work and worry...see us today for your supply of Sutan.

"Study the qualifications of all the candidates. Then, I'm sure you will vote for me!"

This is the plea and confident prophecy of George W. Bryce, a Republican Party candidate for the 102nd District General Assembly seat which Lititz area residents will vote on May 19.

In his quest for the votes of Lititz area Republicans, Bryce is emphasizing that if he is elected he will approach all legislative problems from a businessman's viewpoint. His objective in doing so will be that of better government at less cost.

Bryce promises that he will be a full time State Representative.

"I think it is time to start electing people who not only have a business background, but also the ability and courage to stand up and ask questions and demand answers. This is very important in view of the ever increasing need to find new sources of revenue for new projects and programs".

A long time US Navy pilot who served in World War II, the Korean War and the Berlin Airlift, Bryce is the Co. founder and head of a growing Lebanon-based plastics firm. For many years he was also an award winning insurance salesman. As a serviceman he lived in many parts of the world, where he had the opportunity to study numerous types of government.

Bryce's friends liken his background and qualifications for the State Legislature to those possessed by General Dwight Eisenhower when the latter sought the Presidency of the United States.

In addition to 16 years of active and 10 years of reserve service in the U. S. Navy aviation program, plus rich experience as a highly successful self-made businessman, Bryce has had considerable academic and business training while attending colleges. His military career included many command responsibilities.

As a candidate for the Lititz area General Assembly seat, Bryce is making the promise that if elected he will keep in touch with the citizenry of the Lititz area and let them know what is going on at the state capitol.
