Washable Wallpapers Come of Age

Washable wallpaper was once the dirty stepchild to other wall coverings, relegated to areas which demanded durability above all other considerations. But today's washable wallpaper is so versatile and fashionable that it has become the Cinderella of the decorating world.

In fact, wallpaper isn't always paper anymore! It may be vinyl fabric or paper treated with vinyl coating for durability and quick and easy cleaning of any household soils. And the colors, patterns, and finishes don't look like paper, either.

Newest of all are the "wet-look" papers which resemble shiny patent leather. In stripes, paisleys, and bold designs, they add polish to a small area or room. Many patterns which would be overpowering in a large room can be attractive accents for one wall or one area.

Washable flocks are not available which make the rich look of velvet practical—even for kitchen or bath. Some are formal patterns, others simulate animal stripes or combine the textures of flocking and foil.

There are op and pop designs for youngsters, and papers with coordinated border designs so that you can edge walls, or mirrors for an arresting effect. Or use the borders alone to create interest on solid color walls, to trim furniture, to frame wall treatments. Many wall coverings are also matched to washable fabrics for even more flexibility and ease in home decoration.

Handy homemakers will also appreciate the ease of hanging many of the new wallpapers. Look for pre-pasted and stippable wall covering which require a minimum of skill for installation.

THOMAS

Many women are discovering that you don't have to be a professional to create effects worthy of an interior decorator in your own home—with wallpaper.

And the results are as practical as they are beautiful, thanks to the easy sustainability of modern wallcoverings.

Use of Leisure Time

For most women, household automation is here. It's releasing them from drudgery and giving them some time to call their own. But for some women, the newly found freedom brings boredom and frustration instead of pleasure.

Leisure doesn't have to be a burden. Take time now to reorient yourself about leisure. It can be an opportunity to develop.
