

Frey Cow 2nd at Pa. Black & White

An outstanding Lancaster County Holstein cow took second highest honors at the Pennsylvania Black and White Show at Harrisburg Tuesday.

Alnat Ivanhoe Ginger, owned by J. Mowery Frey Jr., Fultonway Farm, 401 Beaver Valley Pike, Lancaster, was reserve grand champion.

The animal received the honor in competition with 385 top Holsteins from Pennsylvania, one of the leading Holstein states in the nation and several other states.

Alnat Ivanhoe Ginger recently classified Excellent 93 and last year as a seven-year-old produced 25,846 pounds of milk and 984 pounds of butterfat.

This year, Frey said the animal is averaging 96 pounds of milk per day through the first five months of milking.

The cow on the right in this large aged cow class at the Pennsylvania Black and White Show Tuesday is Alnat Ivanhoe Ginger, the outstanding Holstein of J.

Mowery Frey Jr., Lancaster. The Frey animal won the class and went on to become reserve grand champion in competition with 385 top cows from several states.

Earl Stauffer's Duroc Best Hog at Ephrata

Earl Stauffer had the champion hog at the Ephrata Fair Thursday night.

Linford Weaver took reserve champion honors.

Both animals were Durocs. Stauffer's weighed 233 pounds and Weaver's 215 pounds.

Stauffer was also named champion showman.

Other top honors by breed were given as follows:

Belkshires — Linford Weaver with a 222 pound champion and Donald Bollinger, reserve with a 190 pound pig.

Chester, White — Michael Leiminger, champion at 199 pounds and Philip Leiminger, reserve with a 240 pound animal.

Hampshire — Eugene Bollinger champion at 220 pounds, and Glen Martin, reserve at 223 pounds.

Black Poland China — Marlin Bollinger, first with a 218 pound pig and Michael Leiminger, with a 210 pounder.

Spotted Poland — Jeff Pfautz champion and reserve with animals of 235 and 207 pounds respectively.

Yorkshire — Eugene Bollinger, first and second with 212 and 233 pound pigs.

Landrace — Eugene Nol, both champion and reserve at 212 and 240 pounds.

Crossbred — Jay Zimmerman champion with a 185-pound hog and Eugene Bollinger, with a 180 pound pig.

This Duroc sow and litter is the breeding stock of Frank Ruoss and indicative of why the Ruoss' swept most of the Duroc awards at the Lampeter Fair this week.

J. Mowery Frey Jr., Fultonway Farm, 401 Beaver Valley Pike, Lancaster, relaxes after a long day in the ring as he accepts reserve grand championship honors at the Pennsylvania Black and White Show at Harrisburg Tuesday along with his prize cow, Alnat Ivanhoe Ginger. Presenting the trophy and ribbon is Kathy Seipt, Easton, a show official.

● Farm Calendar (Continued from Page 1)

Pittsburgh, September 29
October 1
Wednesday, Sept. 30
New Holland Fair, Sept. 30
Oct. 1, 2, 3

Thursday, Oct. 1

8 p.m. — Box Social program, PSU football movie at Farm and Home Center.

8 p.m. — Lancaster County Poultry Association board of directors, Farm and Home Center.

Red Rose 4-H Baby Beef Club meeting.

Clyde Brubakers Win Lampeter Sheep Honors

The Clyde Brubaker family, Lancaster, swept most of the major sheep categories at the Lampeter Fair this week.

The Brubakers had the champion ram lamb and champion ewe lamb under one year. Champion and reserve ewe honors went to members of the Clyde Brubaker family.

Entries were light in the sheep competition, however.

Reserve ram lamb and ewe under two years old honors went to Randy Walker.

The show judge was Mac Spaulding of New Jersey.

Phoenixville RD2 Ewe Is 4-H Show Champion

Holly Scheib, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scheib, Phoenixville RD2, exhibited the champion ewe at the Chester Delaware Counties 4-H Sheep Show recently at the Rose Tree Hunt Club Media.

Reserve champion ewe was shown by Joan Liesau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Liesau, Spring City RD1.

Joan Liesau also placed first in the junior division of fitting and showmanship contest. Holly Scheib placed second. In this contest, members were judged on their ability to show a sheep which they have trained and groomed for show.

In addition to the breeding ewe classes and the fitting and showmanship classes, there was also market lamb competition.

Judge for the event was David Kantner, Associate County Agricultural Agent in Bucks County.

Jay Landis, Lancaster RD6, shows off his senior bull calf winner at the Pennsylvania Black and White Show Tuesday. The animal, named PaTaJa True Type Patris, was an "easy winner" in competition with eight other animals, according to the judge, Elam Bollinger, Manheim RD1, had the reserve animal in the junior bull calf competition.