Ladies, Have You Heard? ..

About Vacation Wardrobe?

Vacation time is here And if you're planning a trip, deciding what clothes to wear is important. You'll get more pleasure from your vacation if you don't have to constantly repress or fuss with your clothes.

A natural choice in clothing fabrics is knitwear. It sheds wrinkles easily and you can suds the garment out at night and it's ready to wear the next day. There are other easy-care fabrics and garments on the market to make your vacation wardrobe a practical one And with so many coin-operated laundries to be found throughout the county you can easily launder clothes you take with you

When choosing fabrics that require little care, also consider their relative coolness This is also determined by the fiber content and the way the fabric is made Loosely woven or knit fabrics allow more body heat to escape than do closer weaves And color has an effect on coolness White and pastel colors reflect light and heat — that's why they are cooler than dark colors

Garments shouldn't be too tight or they won't be comfortable Sleeveless dresses or ones with roomy sleeves are more comfortable They won't hamper circulation or cut down on your body's natural cooling properties

You probably will take many more clothes than you need But expert planning will enable you to color coordinate clothing and accessories Multiple purpose garments also cut down on the number of clothes you have to take

And, plan ahead for places you'll be visiting and types of activities Select a limited number of garments which are appropriate, comfortable and
