probably around 75, maybe up to 100. It is hoped "that the family will stick with one doctor so he can become thoroughly familiar with the family's case history."

He added, however, that since each doctor will be there only one day a week, services of the other clinic doctors and existing Quarryville doctors will be available for cases needing immediate attention.

Dr. Wentz noted that possibly three doctors will be on duty at any one time and that, because this is a training situation, not as many patients can be handled by the individual doctors as would be the case in the typical private physician's office.

Cases will be handled by appointment only, except in an emergency. Dr. Wentz emphasized that the clinic will not be a hospital and will not be able to handle accidents and serious hospital emergency cases.

While the clinic will handle as many patients as possible, Dr. Wentz emphasized there will be a limit. "When this capacity is reached, we may have to call a limit until the program can be expanded," he said.

The doctors will also limit their practice to the Southern Lancaster County School District area, plus southern Martic and southern Strasburg Townships.

Their fees are expected to be comparable to those charged by existing area doctors.

The structure at 1 E Fourth St. will be extensively remodeled to provide six emergency rooms, a reception room, business office and nurses' station. Sleeping quarters will be provided upstairs for doctors.

The staff will also include a registered nurse and medical secretary.

The remodeling of the property will include enclosing the front porch.

When announced in April, the plan was to locate the new family health center in a wing of the Quarryville Presbyterian Nursing Home. The location was changed after it was found that renovations at that site probably could not be completed in time.

Paul G. Wedel, executive director of Lancaster General Hospital, said, "The General Hospital, assisted by leaders of the Southern Lancaster County community, will be able to move promptly in opening this innovative and much-needed health care facility. In addition to bringing full-time medical care to the local people, it is our hope that the experience gained here will be useful to communities throughout the nation in finding ways to improve the delivery of health care."

Dr. Bar described the hospital-sponsored clinics as a growing trend toward providing medical care in rural areas.

He said a similar clinic has been in operation in Lambertville, N.J., for two years. York hospital announced plans in July for a similar teaching facility in Spring Grove.

Dr. Henry Wentz Will Direct Doctors

This is 1 East Fourth Street, Quarryville, the new health center building before renovations began this week. The building has been a parsonage. The front porch will be enclosed for office space, including a reception room.

Why is it important to you that GLEANER combine is different from the other ten?

BECAUSE Gleaner combines are the only combines specifically designed to cut, thresh, and separate under today's changing field and crop conditions. With a Gleaner combine you take more and cleaner grain out of the field in heavy or light crops—dry or wet conditions.

Differences start down front with Sure-Feed. An Allis-Chalmers exclusive! Controls all crops. Like this—

Header auger feeds into a cylinder-width beater. Retractable fingers comb and spread crop over the entire cylinder width. Gleaner combines use every inch of rasp bar for full threshing, full capacity morning or afternoon—in heavy or light crops.

Your crop's under full control. Entire action takes only 15½ inches of crop travel. This is the shortest header-to-cylinder delivery of all—every "cut" is under full mechanical control to within one inch of the cylinder! Result—feeding accuracy and threshing capacity unmatched even by the heavyweights.

Our down-front design puts pivot point behind the cylinder—material always feeds at the same angle even while the headers move up or down.

All others pivot ahead of cylinder—resulting in over- or under-threshing. They have a 50 to 98-inch conveyor feed. Any conveyor tends to bunch material at its center, causing uneven cylinder wear.

It's easy to see how Gleaner combine down-front cylinder design gives you a much greater separating area, and more capacity everywhere it touches the crop.

Separation begins as wing beater behind the cylinder agitates, fluffs the crop. Air blast from rotating cylinder and beater increases crop agitation. Grain, dust, chaff fall through the straw evenly onto the riddle below. That's early separation, ready for Gleaner combine pre-cleaning.

Here's another difference—two-fan cleaning. The others don't pre-clean—they try to do all the cleaning at the shoe. In the Gleaner combine, the upper fan directs a heavy air blast through the grain stream as it comes off the riddle—pre-cleans crop before it ever reaches the shoe. Blows dust, dirt out rear.

Second fan finish-cleans the crop at the chaffer and shoe. One fan before the shoe, one fan at the shoe; a bigger, cleaner crop with Gleaner combine.

Sure-Feed system; controlled feeding; down-front cylinder; greater separating area; two-fan cleaning system!

These are only some of the Gleaner combine differences. See us for more details. Our credit plans make a Gleaner easier than ever to own!
