achievements at the State Farm Show.

Those receiving awards were: Jim Charles, first place in egg division; Glenn Newcomer, first place in tobacco fillers; Roger Frey, grand champion in wrappers; Barry Smith, fourth place in fillers; Carl Gerlach, fourth place in corn; Dave Gerlach, fifth place in corn.

The Manor Chapter showed their appreciation to Arthur Erisman and David Eshbach by presenting to them the Certificate of Appreciation.

This is the second year that seed corn was given to the Manor FFA by area corn dealers. This was given to FFA members whose names were drawn by lot. Each one was given enough seed corn for one acre. The members keep records and are also required to take a population check plus a yield check on this one acre. Winners are also required to show the corn at one of the local Farm Shows and at the FFA Corn and Tobacco Show.

The Manor FFA would like to thank the following dealers and companies for contributing seed: Clyde Eshleman, Pioneer; Eugene Hoover, Trojan; Melvin Shertzer, PAG; Mervin McMichael, Todd.

The following members received seed corn: Carl Brandt; Rick Burkholder; Manny Charles; Mark Farmer; Steve Frey; Roger Fry; Carl Gerlach; Marlin Harnish; Park Hess; Randy Hunt; Charley Kauffman; Wendal Kibler; Gary Long; Steve Martin, and Chris Miller.

The Manor Chapter gave three chain gilts to three FFA members. Members competed for the gilts by writing a story and answering some questions. Judges were two of the agriculture teachers and an 11th grade FFA member.

The members who won the gilts must show them at a local Farm Show. After the gilt is bred and has her first litter, each of the three members must give a gilt to another deserving FFA member.

The three members chosen this year were Carl Gerlach, Gary Long and Robert Buckwalter. They will be receiving the gilts in the near future.

This year the Manor Chapter sold oranges and grapefruit as their project. The high Salesman of the senior FFA was Alan Railing, who sold 49 cases, and the high salesman of the junior FFA was Clyde Stauffer, who sold 42 cases.

The winners of the FFA Hunting contest were Rick Neff, senior FFA, and Charlie Kauffman, junior FFA.

farming program; Greg Landis, Star Red Rose Farmer; Bob Buckwalter, Star Greenhand; Earl Breneman, poultry farming; Lloyd Hess; seated, Clyde Erb, public speaking and DeKalb award.

Four ninth grade students performed a skit and Clyde Erb showed slides from the senior trip to Kansas City.

The banquet was adjourned by the following new FFA officers: Greg Landis, president; Cliff Charles, vice president; Glenn Long, secretary; Parke Hess, treasurer; Clair Hostetter, reporter; Marlin Harnish, chaplain; Bob Buckwalter, sentinel; Earl Breneman, student advisor, and Don Thomas, program chairman.
