

Pennfield Moves Gregory, Gehman

Joel Habegger, manager of the Feed Marketing Division of Pennfield Corporation, has announced the promotion of Robert E. Gregory to the position of Manager of the Dairy & Livestock Feed Marketing Department and Noah H. Gehman as Manager of the Poultry Feed Marketing Department.

"These are newly formed departments," Habegger said, "reflecting the growth and development of Pennfield's Feed Marketing Division."

Robert Gregory, R.D.1, Lititz, has been with Pennfield since 1958; he will be responsible for maintaining and promoting all dairy and livestock feed sales.

Noah Gehman, 6490 Main Street, East Petersburg, joined the company in 1955. His department will maintain and develop poultry feed sales exclusively.

Pennfield Corporation, with corporate headquarters in Lancaster, was formed with the consolidation of Miller & Bushong of Lancaster and D.E. Horn & Co. of York in March of last year.

Pennfield's divisions include feed production, feed marketing, broiler growing and processing, egg production, processing and marketing and the preparation of frozen foods under the "Pennfield farms" and "Dutch Treat" labels.

Apply Lime In The Fall
For A Better Crop
Next Summer

Fall liming assures proper limestone distribution in the soil, ready for spring planting. The freezing and thawing of winter aid in the process of limestone dissemination. So, why wait, correct your soil deficiency now by liming, and reap a bigger harvest next summer.

Happy Homemaking

When storing a hot-water bottle, blow lightly into it (after draining) and quickly screw on the cap. This will hold the sides apart

Use the cardboard rolls that come in waxed paper and foil boxes for storing the electric cords to small appliances. Cut the rolls in pieces and write on the outside what the cord is for. Fold each cord in long, loop-like lengths and push into the tube from one end. They do not get tangled and take up little drawer space.

A dressing table drawer

may seem like an odd place to keep pliers, but they come in handy to open nail polish bottles, press that last bit of toothpaste from the tube and to squeeze opened bobby pins

If you are vexed because the nail bends when trying to drive one into the mortar of a brick wall so you can hang a picture, try heating the nail first.

To keep pictures straight on the wall, take any round corn pad and put on each bottom corner of the back of the frame.

School Fashions Feature Easy-Care and Comfort

Children's clothes for fall 1972 are in the classic design and made in washable, no-iron fabrics. These styles are particularly good news for mothers buying school clothes. They are easy-care and economical, says Carol Rothermel, Chester County Extension home economist.

Young people today, even the very young, are fashion conscious. And while their choices have often clashed with those of their parents, this fall there seems to be a meeting of the minds on what goes in the fashion scene. The classics tidy up the helter skelter of recent seasons and all ages like the direction. But some young people will still want to make their own interpretations of fall fashions.

Fall fashions have a casual look with plaids a major element and fabric textures important, particularly brushed effects that give depth and richness. And, points out Mrs. Rothermel, the use of fabric softener when laundering will help maintain that fresh-from-the-store softness.

In the girls department, knit dresses, cuffed pants, stretch body suits, pleated or flared skirts, tops and sweaters, including twin sweater sets, provide endless possibilities for the layered look. Skirts are mostly knee length or to the floor with a generous sprinkling of culotte style shorties. Pants feature turned-up cuffs, flares and modified bell bottoms.

For boys, jean styling is still the top favorite—but fabrics and special treatments range far and wide with corduroy and denim. Knits and stretch wovens are also becoming more popular because they are sleek, allow body movement, comfort and they snap back to shape after laundering. Often, pants are solid to complement the highly patterned shirt. The knit sport shirt comes in classic, long-sleeved, front-buttoned collar models. In cotton, polyester and blends, patterns include geometrics, animal motifs and leaf prints. Denim work shirts, westerns and lumberjack plaids appeal to boys.

It's back to school in color, comfort, casualness and easy-care clothing. Shop carefully for the most mix-ability and machine wash-and-dry-ability.
