Robert F. & Joan B. Book, Leola, 600 fat, 16,031 fat.

There were also 174 members cited for producing an average 500 to 600 pounds of butterfat for the year.

New DHIA board members announced at the banquet are: Calvin Beiler, from Association No. 2; James Kreider, Association No. 5; J. Mowery Frey, No. 8; Elmer Weber, No. 11; Robert Kauffman Jr., No. 14.

Guest speaker for the annual affair was Herman Stebbins, manager of York County's Sinking Springs Farms and a farm radio commentator for the past 30 years. Donna Book, Lancaster County's Dairy Princess also addressed the group, as did Dexter Putnam, from Penn State's dairy science extension department, and N. Alan Bair, assistant Lancaster County Agent.

Organic Farmers To Meet

An organizational meeting for the newly formed Pennsylvania Organic Farmers Association will be held at the Organic Market, 601 West Lemon Street, Lancaster, on Tuesday, Jan. 23 at 7:30 p.m. Under discussion will be the nature of today's organic foods market and the methods that organic farmers must employ to meet the needs of both retailers and consumers.

The proposed association will be a non-profit, cooperative, effort managed and directed by farmer members. The intent of the organization is to communicate with and coordinate the activities of those involved in the production and distribution of organic food products grown throughout Pennsylvania.

Bomberger to Manage Mennonite Foundation

Luke R. Bomberger, corporate treasurer, financial manager and member of the Victor F. Weaver board of directors recently resigned his Weaver posts to become head of the Mennonite Foundation's Lancaster Office.

Recently at a banquet held in his honor, Bomberger was recognized for outstanding service and dedication during his 20 years of employment with the company.

In his new post at the Mennonite Foundation, Bomberger will manage the Foundation activities in Eastern United States as well as handling estate planning activities.
