

Pomona Grange Elects Officers

Lancaster County Pomona Grange 71 held its fall meeting at White Horse Fire Hall Saturday, October 20 as guests of Salisbury Grange 1685.

The Master, Jesse Wood, presided at the business session when the following officers were elected for a two year term: Master—Jesse Wood; Overseer—LeRoy Welk; Lecturer—Mrs. Jesse Wood; Steward—Alfred Wanner Jr; assistant Steward—Clifford Holloway III; Lady assistant Steward—Miss Joyce Galbreath; Chaplain—Loran Brinton; Treasurer—Norman Wood; Secretary—Mrs. Charles McSparran; Gatekeeper—Gyles Brown; Ceres—Miss Peggy Galbreath; Pomona—Mrs. Joseph G. Hess; Flora—Mrs. Rebecca Quinn; Pianist—Mrs. Melvin Boyce Sr.

Elected for three year terms were: Alfred Wanner Sr, a member of the Executive Committee and David Brinton, a member of the Finance Committee.

The Grange went on record in favor of a bill in the state Legislature that would prohibit the moving of 14 foot or more wide trailers on our highways, stating that they realize it is necessary at times to move wide pieces of equipment from place to place but they are opposed to permitting an industry to manufacture 14 foot or more wide products which must be moved on our highways as they create problems in towns and narrow roads and are a hazard to motorists.

The Women's Activities committee had a food stand at the Robert Armstrong sale October 20 and cleared $44.55.

The Youth committee from Fulton Grange invited members of other Granges to go with them to see the Ice Follies at Hershey December 1. LeRoy Welk, Quarryville RD3, is in charge of reservations.

Mrs. Jesse Wood, Lecturer, presented the program and read "Autumn's Indian Braves." Mrs. Rebecca Quinn gave readings on "October" and "Halloween." Mrs. Wood conducted games and contests. Mrs. Chester Eby Jr. read "Which Detergent."

The Executive committee, Alfred Wanner Sr., Richard Maule and Ralph Wanner, will select a place to hold the dinner meeting for January 19, 1974. The new officers will be installed at that meeting.

Mrs. Charles McSparran

Blend of Fabrics Favorite of Men

Men prefer light weight shirts and slacks that are a blend of cotton and synthetic fiber with a permanent press finish because they resist wrinkles and need little or no ironing, according to a report issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service.

The study—based on a nationwide sample survey of men's attitudes which affect their purchase and use of cotton and competing fibers in selected clothing items—uncovered some misconceptions about fibers, permanent press finish, and knit or woven construction. When asked to describe the type of dress shirt worn most often, about one in four men was wrong about the fiber or whether the shirt had a permanent press finish.

Most men said style and color were the most important features in dress shirts and light-weight sport shirts and slacks. Brand name was least important for clothing items.

Compared with 100 percent synthetic fiber, 100 percent cotton fiber was more likely to be associated favorably with comfort on the skin moisture absorption and less likely to be associated favorably with wrinkle resistance a need for ironing.

A copy of "Men's Attitudes Toward Cotton and Other Fibers in Selected Clothing Items," MRR-1012, is available free on postcard (please include zip code) or telephone (447-7255) request from the Office of Communication, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Disaster Grain Reserve Established

The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced that 50 million of the approximately 77 million bushels of oats held by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) has been designated as a disaster reserve.

The reserve would be used primarily to feed animals in officially designated disaster areas.

The disaster reserve will be maintained and managed by CCC and will be part of its commingled inventory acquired through price support operations. USDA will be able to rotate, relocate and substitute commodities as needed in order to meet program responsibilities.

In the past, most CCC commodities used for emergencies have been distributed under the Department's emergency livestock feed program. Under this program, eligible farmers in officially designated disaster areas receive reduced price feed to help preserve and maintain foundation herds and other eligible livestock.

The action was taken under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973.
