

Prizes Go to 4-H'ers For Show Performances

For their success in the showing last year, 13 Lancaster County 4-H'ers were honored with trophies and cash Thursday night at the annual 4-H Beef and Lamb Club banquet in the Farm and Home Center. Some 350 onlookers applauded the prize winners. The evening's repast included a 4-H steer donated by the Commonwealth National Bank.

Gary Brubaker, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brubaker, 345 Running Pump Road, was honored for the county's champion baby beef which was the reserve grand champion at the State Farm Show. J. C. Snively & Co., Landisville, presented Gary with a trophy while Sperry New Holland also gave the senior at Hempfield High School and Mount Joy Vo Tech a wristwatch.

Although not related to Gary, two other Brubakers, Kenneth and Sarah, dominated the top trophies in the lamb awards.

Kenneth, 14, a freshman at Hempfield High School, was presented a trophy from Wenger's Mill, Rheems, for his grand champion pen of Hampshires at the Farm Show.

His sister, Sarah, received a silver serving tray and a trophy from the Pennfield Corp., Rohrerstown, for both her reserve grand champion pen of Suffolks and her grand champion single lamb, also a Suffolk.

They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brubaker, 2418 Harrisburg Pike.

Ed Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Hess, Strasburg RD1, was honored for showing the reserve county champion, a steer he won a year ago by winning the showmanship award at the Southeast District Show.

The Farm Credit Association presented Ed a combination trophy-clock. The Intelligencer Journal, which presented Ed with his Hereford, also gave him a trophy for the "best performance ever" by an Intell steer.

Cynthia Shank, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. David Shank, Conestoga RD1, received a silver bowl from Cope & Weaver Farm Machinery, New Providence, for showing the reserve champion Hereford at the farm show.

Cynthia is a seventh grader at Marticville Middle School. Nelson Weaver & Son, Lititz RD2, presented trophies to the champion crossbred trio. Receiving the trophies were Gary Brubaker; Linda Good, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Good, Lititz RD2; and Tim Hess, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hess, Lancaster RD2. Linda is a student at Manheim Central High School while Tim is a fourth grade student at Hambricht Elementary School.

The grand champion county trio at the Farm Show, three Herefords, were honored by Agway Inc., which presented desk sets to the exhibitors.

Receiving the desk sets were Ed Hess, Cynthia Shank and Linda Martin. Linda, 12, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, Narvon RD1. She is a sixth grade student at Narvon Elementary School.

Grubb Supply Co., Elizabethtown, presented desk sets to the county's top beef showmen. Joe Lefever, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Titus Lefever, Manheim RD4, was the top showman at the Southeast District Show while Kenneth Longenecker, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Longenecker, Lititz RD2, was the top county showman at Farm Show competition.

The other award for lamb exhibition went to Christian Herr, 12, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Herr, Narvon RD2. Earl Sauder's Mill, New Holland, presented a desk set to Christian for his champion pen of Shropshires at the Farm Show.

Max M. Smith, county agent, was a recipient of an award also, both by the state champion 4-H livestock judging team and the entire Red Rose Club.

Smith received a digital clock from the livestock judging team in addition to a monogram tie tack and matching money clip from the group.

Also honored were the 4-H club leaders who also received monogram tie tacks.

Smith returned the favor by presenting the premium money to the livestock judging team consisting of Jeff Greider, Ed Hess, Rick Hess and Joe Lefever.

Tend-R-Leen®, the original no-roughage beef finishing program, was introduced more than a decade ago, following years of extensive research at the Tend-R-Leen Research Center.

Today, thousands of producers across the country and internationally are enjoying the profit return from feeding Tend-R-Leen.

The program is simple: Just fill the feeders with Tend-R-Leen and whole corn; or steam flaked corn; or rolled or steam flaked barley; or rolled or steam flaked milo; plus mineral and water. Pack on more pounds of well-marbled, tender and lean red meat... the kind Mrs. America looks for at the meat counters.

Tend-R-Leen is no ordinary feeding program. The unique closed formula offers a starter to get cattle on feed fast... a supplement to finish them fast and easy, at low cost.

There's a Tend-R-Leen program to fit your facilities, your feed and labor supply.

The difference is all in your favor! Put your own pencil to the economics of Tend-R-Leen Beef. Put together the facts on your specific feedlot requirements and current prices. Measure your own profit return.
