

"Getting Involved is Everything"

 for the County 4-H Council by Christine was a contestant having a variety of sales in the recent Lancaster including selling cookies and County Dairy Princess

Along with her membership in many of the area 4-H clubs, Christine is also a teen leader, which means she must be prepared for a lot of questions.

Contest and will be representing the Busy Baker's Club in the 4-H Queen Contest.

A senior this fall at Donegal High School, Christine is interested in being a practical nurse when she graduates. She has been a member and vice-president of the Future Nurses Club at school and was also a candy striper at St. Joseph's Hospital.

"I would like to be a nurse, since I enjoy helping other people," Christine explained.

"So many people don't want to get involved, but I am anxious to work with others and help them."

Not only is Christine active in 4-H and school activities but also involved in her youth group at the Marietta Congregational Church of the Bible.

She has been singing with a youth group chorale called "A New Song" which has presented several concerts. Although busy finishing her 4-H projects for this summer, Christine and her family are hosting an exchange 4-Her from Maine for a week. Christine, being on county council, helped to plan most of the activities that will be held for the exchange 4-Hers this week.

Most people would think that Christine has enough to do with her dedicated involvement in so many youth projects, but believe it or not she also takes time to help with the farm work which includes milking 50 dairy cows every night.

Christine certainly stands by her motto "getting involved is everything".
