

Consumers' Corner

Antacid
 Food and Drug Administration recently released final regulations requiring over-the-counter antacid products to meet new standards for safe and effective ingredients as well as for dosages to be permitted.
 Most antacid products will remain on the market, but labeling, ingredients, dosages and promotional claims may be changed under the new rules, highlights of which include:
 —Labels must carry a section called "Drug Interaction Precautions" that will tell consumers what drugs react unfavorably with the ingredients in the antacid.

 —Manufacturers must limit the claims for the antacid's effectiveness to heartburn, sour stomach and acid indigestion.
 —Antacids may be combined with an analgesic (pain reliever) only if the product's label says it is designed to relieve headaches — for example — as well as acid indigestion.
 —Labels listing ingredients will be required
 Because 8,000 antacid products are involved in the regulation, FDA is setting June 1975 as the effective date for completing changes.

Thought For Food

Baked Macaroni And Cheese

Cook ½ pound elbow macaroni according to package directions, drain well. Combine 1 teaspoon instant minced onion and ¼ teaspoon powdered mustard with 2 teaspoons warm water, let stand 10 minutes. Meanwhile, melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in 1½ tablespoons flour. Add 1½ cups milk, cook and stir until sauce comes to boiling point. Stir in 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon ground white pepper and mustard and minced onion. Pour over cooked macaroni along with one cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese. Mix lightly. Turn into a buttered 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle ½ cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese over macaroni. Cover with 1 cup buttered croutons. Arrange 4 tomato slices over croutons, sprinkle with another ½ cup buttered croutons. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350°F) 25 minutes or until browned. Yields 6 portions.
