

Award Winning Poultry Judge

 "trade in New York," he explained.
 Although Robert admits that having the responsibility of such a large operation takes most of his time, he has also raised corn and popcorn which have taken awards also. Robert has been on the honor roll at school and works on the machinery in the agricultural department. He is currently working on overhauling and painting a corn sheller.
 When asked if he had future plans, Robert explained that he would like to continue in the poultry business and possibly reestablish the family's 20,000 laying operation that was discontinued due to the depressed egg market and costs.

 "The operation would be a full time job as the birds are kept for a year," Robert stated.
 Although he seems hopeful about the industry, Robert admitted that all is not sunshine in the poultry business.
 "The small farmer just doesn't have much control of the industry like he used to," Robert explained, "but from now on that is the way it will be, I suppose."
 Whatever the cost, Robert wants to continue his poultry projects and is looking forward to attending the State FFA activities this coming summer to try his hand at poultry judging once again.

Until that time, he will be working around the farm, that his parents Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bair own in Wrightsville R1.

Conestoga 4-Hers Meet

On January 24, 1975, a meeting was held at Mrs. Jodi Alexander's home for the Conestoga Crusadors Horse & Pony Club members.

Mr. Fred Fisher was at the meeting to talk with us about future activities & rules for our 4-H horse shows.
