Dairy Club. Maureen is vice-president of the Brown Swiss, Jersey and Ayrshire 4-H Club of Lancaster County this year. Brian, Neal and Maureen were also in the 4-H Bee Club in New Jersey. Maureen made it to State 4-H Dairy Show the last three years. Glenn works on the farm full-time. Maureen can fill in milking when necessary as she did after her father's accident last August.

Glenn and Brian graduated from Hunterdon Central High School, Flemington, N.J. where Neal is finishing his Senior year. He and Brian have an apartment in Flemington. Brian works for a private garage between Summerville and Flemington. Maureen is a Senior at Solanco High School and was inducted into the National Honor Society at a candlelight service April 22. She played hockey at school last year and throws shot-puts this year. She does quite well sketching and painting pictures. She has the evening meal ready when the rest of the family finishes milking and the barn work.

Since next week is National Music Week it is noteworthy to mention that the Houghs are a musical family. George and Doris love music. George plays piano and organ and Doris sings. However, all of their four children have outstanding musical talents. Glenn, Brian and Neal were in the regional high school orchestra in New Jersey. Glenn played drum in elementary school and organ, piano, tuba and string bass in high school. He studied some at Lancaster Conservatory of Music. He is building a four manual church pipe organ with a full set of pedals and chimes in their basement. The pipes just about fill the room. He also has a xylophone, a piano and his portable organ in the basement. He has an antique reed pump organ and a bass violin in his bedroom. He has played organ-piano for churches, banquets, weddings and receptions in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. He played for the Pa. State Grange Leadership School at Gettysburg two years and put on an impromptu concert there in 1973 and a full concert in 1974. He played an organ accompaniment for the centennial pageant of the Pa. State Grange in Reading in 1973. He played an organ solo for the Grange talent contest in 1974 and won first place in the regional and at the State Grange contest at their convention at Washington, Pa. He took part in the Pennsylvania Farmers Association Ladies Day Out talent contest two years ago and won first place in Lancaster Co. He plays accompaniment for silent movies at the Marietta Theater alternating weekends.

Brian played a sousaphone in the Hunterdon Central High School band, Flemington, N.J. and plays all sizes of organs. He also sings. He plays in a big name combo regularly.

Neal played sousaphone in school, plays the organ, bass guitar, tuba, string bass, trombone and sings. He has his own combo known as "Fire Ballet." They just finished recording an album April 15, entitled "Night On Bald Mountain." It is due to be released anytime. It cost the record company $23,000 to make it.

Maureen takes voice lessons from Mrs. Horchler in Lancaster. She won first place April 23 at the PFA Ladies Day Out in the talent competition, singing a rendition of The Lord's Prayer and will represent Lancaster County at the regional contest in July. She sings solo parts in the Chestnut Level Presbyterian Church choir. She plays french horn at Solanco High School and played it this year and last in Lancaster Co. band and sang in county and district chorus. She also plays violin and piano. She plans to go to West Chester College next year to major in french horn and minor in voice. She wants to teach music. She was also accepted at Lebanon Valley College.

Houghs are active in church and community organizations. George has been a member of the American Jersey Cattle Club for several years and a member of the PFA since the fall of 1971. He, Doris and Glenn have been members of Fulton Grange since November of 1971. Glenn is serving as pianist and Doris in the office of Flora this year and served as Pomona last year. Glenn also served as Junior Grange Patron for two years. Doris is a member of Farm Women Society 17. She served on the Ways and Means committee last year and is on the Program committee this year. She has been a member of the Southern Lancaster Co. Historical Society for three years. It meets at the old Octorara Presbyterian Shrine Church, in the homes and at various places. Glenn is a member of Calvary Independent Church, Mechanic Grove. Doris and Maureen are members of Chestnut Level Presbyterian Church where Doris is a member of the Women's Association. Her circle meets the third Friday of the month at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Hough loves to work with stained glass. She has made lamp shades, candle holders, jewelry, wall and window decorations. She is teaching a class to lead glass at the Octorara Art Association every other Monday night.

Mrs. Hough enjoys taking pictures. She has hundreds of slides. Her favorite ones are of horses, cows, close-ups of flowers and aerial views of farms.

She has done some wood carving. Here again her favorite subject is horses. She and her mother took a course in ceramics at Summerville, N.J. She made some
