HESSTON
StakHand 10

Even in a one-man operation Hesston makes it possible to include a moderate size haying program with the HESSTON StakHand® 10. Yes, the StakHand 10 will get your hay up and out of the weather at the hourly rate of four to six tons. And the stacks have self-storing weather-resistant capabilities. Couple the StakHand with a choice of StakMovers and you can put up hay one day they move it later on. See us for all the benefits of a StakHand right away. We can even show you how the Stak-Hand 10 system lends itself to feeding programs.

HESSTON
1014 WINDROWER

Hydrostatic header drive and center placement of the arched tongue on the header allow infinite positioning of the new center pivot Hydro Swing™ 1014. Yes, Hesston's 1014 can cut on either side of the tractor to let you windrow in either direction—up and down the field. Or, the swing cylinder lets you position the header directly behind the tractor to clear gates. Available in widths of 12 or 14, the headers give trouble-free operation even in dense crops. And 57 conditioner rolls gently fluff hay into well-formed windrows. See us about the new 1014 soon. It's an ideal way to open your fields to your choice of HESSTON StakHand® Automatic Hay Handling Systems.

Lancaster Co-op Winners Named

Five outstanding boys and girls have been named winners in the Cooperative Business Education Program sponsored by the Lancaster Co-op Council and will represent this area at the Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Cooperatives Summer Institute at Shippensburg State College, July 6-10.

Those chosen to attend the Institute are: Randy Ranck, Quarryville R2; Donald Hershey, Paradise R1; LaVern Martin, East Earl R1; Dale Burkhardt, Denver R1; and Cynthia Erb, Mount Joy R1.

Winners were selected on the basis of their knowledge of the business, and on activities of the participants identifying them with school, community, church, and youth organizations.

These young leaders will be accompanied to Shippensburg by Jay W. Irwin, Associate County Agent and Carl Graybill, Teacher of Agriculture, who will act as chaperone and resource persons for the delegation.

The Institute program is designed to teach youth more about the business enterprise system in the United States, to help them in planning their future by pointing out career possibilities in agribusiness, and provide opportunities for individual leadership development.

Approximately 250 young adults, representing the best of over 4,000 participants in the annual P.A.F.C. youth education program, will attend the four-day event. The Institute is a joint effort of the Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Cooperatives, local Co-op Councils, and the College of Agriculture of The Pennsylvania State University.

A total of 85 local boys and girls took part in this year's cooperative program sponsored by the Lancaster Co-op Council.
