

Lancaster Farming

Serving The Central and Southeastern Pennsylvania Areas

Vol. 20 No. 49

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, Oct. 25, 1975

$3.00 Per Year

Senator Scott tours area farm

By Melissa Piper
LANCASTER - The Honorable Hugh Scott, Republican minority leader and Pa. Senator, visited here last Friday afternoon (Oct. 17) as the guest of the Lancaster County Farmer's Association.

Admist a downpour, Senator Scott, arrived at the Noah Wenger farm near Stevens, for an informal press conference and tour of the farm. The Senator was on hand to address the farmer's association at their annual meeting and banquet held in Intercourse that evening.

Shortly before the press conference convened, Noah Wenger, presented the Senator with several dozen of eggs representing the agricultural industry in the county. Mrs. Scott, who accompanied her husband on the trip, was presented with a bouquet of red roses to symbolize her trip to Lancaster, "the red rose city."

Scott explained that he was happy to return to the Lancaster County area as he

[Continued on Page 20]

State Grangers come to Lancaster

By Dieter Krieg
LANCASTER - Grangers from all over the state will be meeting in the Red Rose City, beginning Monday, to hold their annual convention. It is only the third time in the history of the Grange that Lancaster was chosen for the affair.

The four-day sessions are being hosted by the Lancaster, Delaware, Chester, and Montgomery County Pomona Granges with Richard Maule of Quarryville serving as chairman of the convention committee. Daytime sessions are to be held in the Fulton Opera House, while evening programs are slated

[Continued on Page 15]

Poultry referendum okay urged

By Dieter Krieg
HERSHEY - Poultry producers from 14 northeastern states who took part in the three-day NEPPCO (Northeast Poultry Producers Council) convention here this week received just what organizers of the event said they would.

Held at the spacious and luxurious Hershey Convention Center, poultry producers were treated to an exposition of the latest products and services available to the industry, as well as informative speeches by nationally - known agricultural leaders.

Dr. Cecil E. Howes, president of the Council for Agricultural Science and Technology (CAST) and Agricultural Liaison Officer, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, told the group during closing ceremonies on Thursday:

"We can't become negative in our thinking - we have opportunities before us,

[Continued on Page 21]

Youth captures ag award

By Melissa Piper
While many youths across the country have earned their American Farming Degrees by displaying outstanding agricultural production, one area youth has captured the award for his outstanding work experience.

Gary Stauffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli B. Stauffer, New Holland R1, was recently named as the recipient of the top FFA award in the organization - the American Farming Degree.

The youth graduated from Garden Spot High School in 1972 and has been working, since that time, at MM

[Continued from Page 12]

In This Issue

FARM CALENDAR	10
Markets	2-6
Sale Register	73
Farmers Almanac	8
Classified Ads	37
Life on the Farm	10
Homestead Notes	42
Home on the Range	47
Junior Cooking Edition	46
Life on the Farm	60
Chester DHIA	66

Berks DHIA 51