Vol. 20 No. 51

Serving The Central and Southeastern Pennsylvania Areas Lancaster Farming, Saturday, Nov. 8, 1975

$3.00 Per Year

Health charts sold unlawfully

By Dieter Krieg extension veterinarian at CENTERVILLE - There isn't another state in the extension veterinarian at Penn State, during a speech he delivered before the third extension veterinarian at country which can brag as annual Dairy Seminar on much about animal health as Feeding and Health, held Pennsylvania - we're No. 1 - here at the Quality Courts "proclaimed Dr. Sam Guss. Inn last Tuesday evening.

But that doesn't mean all is well. There's still a lot to be done.

The well-known and highly acclaimed veterniarian, who will be retiring at the end of the year, warned an audience of approximately some crooked dealers 60 persons that there is "around." considerable false security in some present programs, especially health cer-tification. His listeners were mainly feed dealers,

nutritionists, veternarians, and agri-business

Guss charged that there was at least one place within the state where an ear tag and accompanying health chart could be purchased for one dollar; a Pennsylvania cattle dealer has a box full of health charts; and there are representatives.

In an outspoken, straightforward manner, Guss said: "Health charts are good for toilet paper - if you like shiny toliet paper." Asked after the meeting if the statement included Pennsylvania health charts, Guss said simply that too much confidence is being placed in them. Health charts are not effective enough in bringing disease under control, those from other states are virtually meaningless. Guss strongly recommends that cattle be tested after they are brought into a new herd. He notes that a number of disease problems break out in the state each year, in spite of the Commonwealth's overall good record, and the deserve'em."

"We have about 20 herds a year that are depopulated," he said, blaming much of it on insufficient precautions taken by dealers and farmers. "You should have

[Continued on Page 17]

Schuylkill Co. miss named Pa.Poultry Queen for 1976

Dawn Heisler, (center) Schuylkill Co. was named as the Pa. Poultry Queen during pageant activities held Oct. 31 in Carlisle. Other contestants participating in the event were (from left) Julie Lanius, York County; Kathy Bicksler, the 1975 Queen and Judy Stoltzfus, Lancaster County.

By Melissa Piper

Miss Dawn Heisler, Tamaqua R1, was selected as Pa.'s State Poultry Queen during a pageant held Oct. 31, at the Embers Restaurant in Carlisle.

Dawn was one of three contestants vying for the title and was selected to represent Pa.'s poultry industry throughout the coming year.

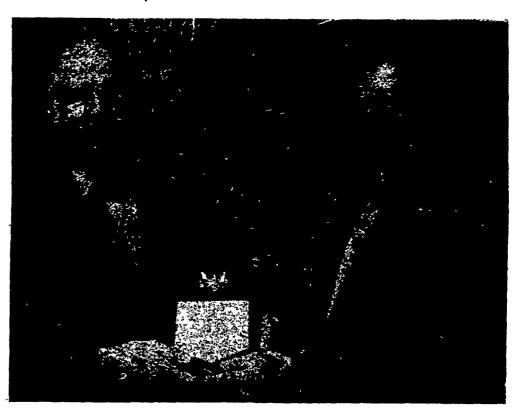

A student at the Pa. Junior College of Medical Arts, Dawn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Heisler, egg producing family from Schuylkill County.

By no means new to the farm, Dawn has helped sort, grade, candle and package eggs for a number of years.

"I've done just about everything," the livacious brunette noted, "but I enjoy delivering the eggs to the store more than anything."

Having a special interest in the field of music, Dawn has participated in several choral groups and is an accomplished pianist. The young lady recently won the

[Continued on Page 18]

Dr. Sam Guss, left, extension veterinarian from Penn State, was presented with a plaque last Tuesday evening following the 3rd annual Dairy Feeding Health Seminar at the Quality Courts Inn near Centerville. The presentation was made by County Agent John Smith of York County on behalf of dairymen in Lancaster and York Counties who appreciate the service Guss has provided for the past 24 years. The well-known veternarian will retire on Dec. 30 and will be honored at a party at University Park on Dec. 17.

Lew Ayres honored

By Dieter Krieg EPHRATA — Lew Ayers, who was hired 15 years ago to become Ephrata High School's first vocational agriculture in-

Lew Ayers, vo-ag instructor of Ephrata H.S. is one of three FFA teachers in the state to have been nominated for the Honorary American Farmer Degree.

structor and FFA advisor, has been nominated to receive the FFA's Honorary American Farmer Degree — the highest such award presented by organization. One of only three teachers in Pennsvlvania to receive the honor this year, Ayers was nominated by the state's FFA association and the nomination has been approved by the National Board of Directors which met last month in Alexandria, Va.

The degree is awarded on the basis of points scored by a teacher for his accomplishments as a vocational agriculture instructor, FFA advisor, and as a participant in professional vocational agriculture teachers' organizations.

During the 15 years he has been at Ephrata, Ayers has had three students who earned the American Farmer Degree; 40 who received the State Farmer Degree; and five recipients of the state proficiency award. He has had 21 of his students on national FFA judging teams and 29 on regional FFA judging teams. In addition, his chapter has had the grand champion dairy cow at the Pennsylvania

[Continued on Page 18]

FFA chapters to receive nat'l awards

By Melissa Piper Students from four Lancaster County schools, will be traveling to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City this coming week to receive a myriad of in traveling to the convention awards.

Seven members of the Cloister FFA Chapter in 16

Ephrata High School will be dividual and chapter with their advisor. Lewis Ayers.

Members attending include: James Felpel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Felpel, Ephrata; Jay Gerhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerhart, Reinholds; Gerald Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester T. Good, Ephrata; Harry Leininger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Leininger, Ephrata; Calvin Sauder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Sauder, Ephrata; Clifford Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Martin,

[Continued on Page 32]

In This Issue

FARM CALENDAR Markets Sale Register Farmers Almanac Classified Ads Farm Commentary Farm Women Home on the Range

1/2? Keystone Expo schedule 58 2-6 Keystone Expo Sales Report 71 78 Homestead Notes 50 37 Country Corner 10 FFA convention preview 20 57 Berks ag center 56 Farm-City weekend