Dealership recognized

CHAMBERSBURG - Chambersburg Farm Service was recognized this Thursday (June 24) for achieving International Harvester's highest business standards for dealerships.

Manager John Hostetter accepted a plaque from IH officials in recognition of becoming the fourth dealer in Pennsylvania to qualify for IH's XL dealer program.

The presentation was held following a dinner at the Holiday Inn, here, which was attended by Chambersburg Farm Service employees, directors and IH officials. Among the requirements the dealership completed in the program, IH officials say, were having a certified service facility, a computerized accounting and parts replenishment system, new identification, and a succession plan to insure the continuation of the dealership.

 "No," she said, "not if my getting sick won't bother you."
