National Chicken Cooking Contest

Top prize chicken recipe to win $10,000

LANCASTER — Mr. Robert Graybill, president of Pennfield Corporation, Lancaster, has had a big job for the past year and a half. Along with a staff which included a full-time professional coordinator, he has been organizing the National Chicken Cooking Contest which will take place in Philadelphia at the Civic Center this week, July 13 and 14.

This is an annual contest which is sponsored by the National Broiler Council of which Graybill is director, Ac'cent flavor enhancer, and Mazola corn oil.

Basically a recipe contest, there are 51 contestants from every state in the United States and Washington D.C.

who have gone through regional and state cookoff eliminations to be selected as the national finalists.

These men and women will now be judged by food editors from across the nation to see who has the winning recipe. In total there will be 75 food editors attending the contest.

The criteria for each recipe is that the predominant ingredient be a broiler-fryer chicken (whole or any parts), along with at least one teaspoon Ac'cent flavor enhancer and ¼ cup Mazola corn oil. All other products used in the recipe must be familiar to most people and nationally available.

Once these criteria are met, the judging will be based on five equal points. They are, that the recipe should (1) be simple enough to appeal to most people, (2) be different enough to be interesting, (3) have ingredients that are familiar and nationally available, (4) have a good appearance, and (5) have excellent flavor.

The top recipe wins $10,000; the second, $4000; the third $3000; the fourth, $2000; and the fifth place winner receives $1000.

There will be eight home economists on the floor helping to supervise the actual cook off. Several area women will participate in this part of the contest including Agnes Arnold-Norman, Fay Strickler, Mary Alice Gregory, and Lettie Schlader.

Pennsylvania's entrant in the contest is Ann Beuter from Mansfield R1.

Solanco 4-H

The Solanco Community 4-H Club met June 18 at the fairgrounds, when Debbie Krantz gave a sewing demonstration. Strawberries and homemade ice cream were served following the program. A baseball game was also held.

The next meeting will be a picnic and swimming party on July 16 at 6:30 p.m. at Wenger's pool. Those attending should bring their own hotdogs and rolls.

NATIONAL PORK

Producers Council®
Over the last few years, the image of pork and the producer has changed. Today, producers are proud of their product. And, through the NPPC, producers have proven to consumers that pork not only tastes good, but it's good for them, too.

The NPPC was formed and is funded and directed by producers. NPPC promotes pork to consumers in a vigorous year-round advertising campaign. The NPPC also funds research on key production problems identified by producer-members.

Our work promoting your product has just begun. We want to do more. We need your help if you would like to join your fellow pork producers in supporting these worthwhile programs, contact National Pork Producers, 4715 Grand Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa 50312. We will direct you to the proper state leaders. Remember, our job has just begun.
