Restrictions set

HARRISBURG - A recent act further restricts the use of tree stands and climbing devices by Pennsylvania hunters.

Under provisions of The Game Law, it is now unlawful to damage any tree or trees in any manner on public or private property while hunting or while preparing to hunt as a result of: constructing any tree stand, platform, or any other manmade support of any description; using a portable tree stand; using any climbing device or implement of any description.

The new legislation does not prohibit the construction or use of tree stands. It simply prohibits the damaging of any tree in any manner as a result of building or using a tree stand or platform of any description, climbing devices, etc.

The act does not apply to a landowner or to any person to whom the landowner has given written permission in advance.

Any person who violates the new law is subject to a $25 fine and payment for actual damage done to any tree.

Introducing the basic "keep the heat in the house and out of the chimney" Fire Grate.

With most fireplaces, most of the heat goes up the chimney.

Instead of out into the room. But with the heavy-duty Fire Grate by Shenandoah, and the help of its 61 watt insulated blower, three times the heat goes out into the room.

And three times the economy goes back into your pocket. That's getting back to basics. And that's Shenandoah.
