

Mrs. Jacob Fisher prefers to do all her milking by hand. The Fishers milk about 35 goats out of their herd of 80.

Goats

Hummel ceramic pieces, and the list goes on and on. Along with the figures displayed on the shelves, the Fishers collect books about goats. They have several of the Billy Whiskers travel collection such as Billy Whiskers in an Airplane, Billy Whiskers at the Circus, and Billy Whiskers On the Mississippi. And, of course, their collection wouldn't be complete without Three Billy Goats Gruff. Some of the Billy Whiskers collection have a 1907 copyright.

"Jake keeps a list in his pocket and when we go somewhere, we look to see what we have or what we don't have," explains Jane.

To get their collection to its present size, the Fishers have combed gift shops, flea markets, and old book stores. Friends have also kept them in mind, and brought them pieces to complete their collection.

"We have a lovely German piece that friends brought us from the shore," says Jane.

With all the objects they have in their collection, Jane wants at least one more thing. She has a goat quilt pattern that she wants to have quilted someday.

The Fishers' dedication to the goat business does not stop with a dairy and a hobby, however. They are members of the Pennsylvania Dairy Goat Association, of which Fisher was president at one time. They also belong to a local club, the South Penn Goat Association. And, they are active in promoting goats by hosting Farm City Tours and by working on goat seminars.

"We really want to let people know all about the business," they say.

No one would argue that they are not doing their share. Just meeting them and chatting about goats for a few hours is enough to stimulate an interest in their business, hobby, and love

American Dairy Association has published its first new cookbook in 10 years. The 224-page book, "Meatime Mastery," contains over 400 kitchen tested recipes that use dairy products. Its 14 chapters cover everything from appetizers to desserts. The book is illustrated with full color photographs of many of the prepared dishes. It features helpful tips on the care, storage, and use of dairy products as well as tables for cheese and ice cream and cooking guides for meat, fish and poultry. A chart of metric information is also included. Copies of the cookbook can be ordered from: American Dairy Association, P.O. Box 721-FE, Rosemont, Ill. 60018, for $2.75 per copy.

Recipe

Pink Popcorn Balls

Seven cups popped popcorn.

Measure and put into top part of double boiler:

3 cups miniature marshmallows

2 tablespoons butter

1/4 teaspoon salt

In bottom part of double boiler heat about one inch of water to boiling. Place top part of double boiler over this and stir until marshmallows are melted. Tint pink with a few drops of red food coloring. Pour melted marshmallow mixture over popped corn and shape quickly into balls with well greased hands. Yield: 10 medium balls.

Society 12

Farm Women Society 12 met recently at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Lownsbury. Mrs. Marion Glick had devotions.

Fifteen members attended. The program was a craft meeting, and members brought a plant to exchange.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Wissler with Mrs. Raymond Aston as co-hostess. Mrs. Betty Jo Heisey will speak on gift wrapping. There will also be a needlework gathering.

SOYBEAN ROASTING ON YOUR FARM

For peak feeding value have your soybeans roasted. (To kill toxic enzymes in raw soybeans.)

1. Roasted soybean (not just cooked), increases digestibility by 15 percent.
2. Increases weight gain for beef & hogs
3. Increases butterfat in milk & egg production
4. Improves animal health, reduces vet bill.
5. Eliminates hauling to the mill & back to farm.
6. Feed your own grown grain. (Not exchanged with others).
7. Beans remain whole. Store for months without losing any feeding value.
