

Ford bullish on tractor market

TROY, Mich. - Ford tractor dealers are ready to capitalize on a booming tractor market, according to Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Company president.

The executive told a meeting of Ford Tractor Operations management at the Detroit Plaza Hotel that "tractor sales are booming." Iacocca explained that Ford was "entering the fastest growing segment of the farm market" with the introduction of Ford's big four-wheel drive tractor entries scheduled for July.

"This is going to be a particularly interesting period," Iacocca said, "as you start to go after the majors in the high-horsepower market."

Cautioning the tractor management that Ford still had a way to go in products and in market representation, Iacocca pointed out that the "company is making progress."

The Ford executive said that "the world needs to produce a lot more food than it is producing now, and it is going to need to produce a lot more in the future. To do the job, we will have to raise the crop yield of every arable acre of land, and find ways to increase the amount of arable land. To do this, we will need all of the tractors and farm equipment we can produce. We will have to produce this equipment and make it available to other countries at a price they can afford to pay."

"It's a big order. Frankly, ladies and gentlemen, I believe that you are in a very challenging field. But based on your past performance, I have every confidence that you can do the job."

Mr. Iacocca told the HARRISBURG - The Department of Environmental Resources' Bureau of State Parks announced Monday that applications for the Fall family cabin rental season will be accepted from June 1 through July 15.

The Fall rental season begins with the first Tuesday following Labor Day and ends on the third Friday in December. The rental period is from Monday to Monday or from Friday to Friday with the exception that the first rental in this period is from the Tuesday following Labor Day to the following Friday and at one-half the weekly rate.

Cabin rental applications are available from the DER Bureau of State Parks or Office of Public Information and are part of a brochure describing those State Parks which have family cabins, rates charged and the regulations.

The application is completed by the applicant, detached from the brochure and mailed to the appropriate State Park office in accordance with the seasonal acceptance dates. No deposit is required.

An applicant may submit no more than one application per Park per rental season and reservations will be awarded by lottery shortly after the close of the acceptance dates.

All applicants will be notified, whether successful or not, and applications received after the closing dates will be awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Upon receipt of a confirmation letter, the applicant must submit the total rental fee within two weeks. Failure to comply will void the reservation.
