

Lebanon County girls aim for dairy royalty

LEBANON, Pa. - June 13 through 18 has been designated "Dairy Week" at the Lebanon Valley Mall, here. During that time, various dairy exhibits sponsored by 4-H dairy clubs, the Future Farmers of America, and commercial organizations will be on display. For the children, a cow coloring contest will be displayed for which judging will take place Thursday afternoon in the mall.

The highlight of "Dairy Week," however, will come on Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. in Boscov's Auditorium, when Rose Marie Brandt, 1976 Lebanon County dairy princess, will crown her successor.

Five county girls will vie for this year's title. They will be evaluated with the judges as well as stage performance.

Entertainment for the evening will be provided by Joyce Bupp, Seven Valleys, who will perform a skit entitled, "There's a farmer in here, somewhere." Mrs. Bupp is the York County reporter for Lancaster Farming, for which she writes a column entitled, "On being a farm wife - and other hazards." The five girls competing for Lebanon county's dairy royalty are:

Susan Bomberger, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bomberger of Annville R3. Susan attends Annville-Cleona High School, and hopes to major in horticulture or botany in college. Susan's activities include National Honor Society, Mat Maids, NoSoAnn Dairy and South Mountain 4-H Club, as well as the Teen Council Fair Board. She is a member of the Salen Lutheran Church. Her parents own a dairy herd of 110 Jersey Cows.

Joann Hostetter resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Hostetter, at Annville R2, where her parents own 52 head of Ayrshire dairy animals. Joann is 17 years old and attends Northern Lebanon County High School. She is a member of the National Honor Society and the Bible Club at Norlebeco. She also serves as Sunday School teacher.

Natalie Hostetter is the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Penrose Hostetter of Annville R2. Since graduation from Annville-Cleona High School in 1975, Natalie has worked as a secretary for a local fuel oil firm and serves as secretary for the Youth Fellowship at her church. On her parents' farm, she helps with the farm work which includes milking a herd of 40 Holsteins.

Sheila Light is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Light of 713 Pine Meadow Road, Lebanon. Upon graduation from Northern Lebanon County High School, Sheila plans to attend nursing school. While at Northern Lebanon, Sheila takes an active part in Bible Club, Word of Life Club, and Explorers of Nursing. Her parents own 46 head of Holsteins.

Joyce Moyer lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moyer, at Lebanon R2. This 17-year-old attends Cedar Crest High School and would like to become an ecology teacher. Some of her activities include chorus, pep club, German club, youth education association, Lebanon County Ski Club, as well as Norsolebeco 4-H and Cedar Crest 4-H clubs. Her parents own 85 head of Holsteins.

Build your own pre-starter ration for half the cost.

Feed Creep Wean No. 3

If you're in the business of farrowing pigs, there is only one sure way to save on feed costs — right from the start. That's why Vigortone developed Creep Wean No. 3.

This highly fortified pre-mix makes it possible for you to build your own 18% pre-starter ration for about half the cost of a commercial product.

You'll be surprised how much easier it is to get baby pigs on feed fast with this freshly ground ration and how trouble free they stay right on through weaning.

Save big on Vigortone's starter, growing and finishing rations, too. The reasons for the superior performance of Vigortone fortified corn-soy rations are simple: the pigs are assured the essential balance of amino acids and the proper levels of major minerals, trace minerals and vitamins all the way to market; and you only pay out-of-pocket for ingredients you don't grow on your own farm.

Better feed conversion means lower cost

Each Vigortone corn-soy feeding program has been designed to promote better feed conversion and lower costs. If you'd like more information, see your nearest Vigortone serviceman soon.
