UNIVERSITY PARK — Paul R. Guldin Speaking Champions were announced recently in the 25th annual Contest held within the College of Agriculture at

Penn State. Taking top honors was Sue G. Emeigh of Dormont, junior in animal science. Ms. Emeigh won $175 for her speech entitled, "Impressions of a City Kid-A Look at the Impact of American Agriculture."

Second place went to W. Roy Prescott of Hummelstown, junior in animal science, whose speech was entitled, "Agriculture and Warfare." Prescott received $150.

In third place was Virginia K. Stokes of Westtown, junior in agricultural business management, who received $100. "Agriculture-Your Job, Your Business," was the title of her talk.

Honorable mention went to Helen C. Sheldon of Thompson, junior in animal science; Laura L. Weinberger of Clinton, freshman in animal science; and Kenneth L. Winebark, of Rochester Mills, sophomore

Pa. delegate stresses unity at NFU convention

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH — About 30 Pennsylvanians attended the 76th annual convention of the National Farmers Union, here, demonstrating, in the words of one, "our need to unify as farmers and work together on the national level."

Albert H. Mellinger of Strasburg, Pa., chairman of the board of Pennsylvania Farmers Union, stressed the need for broad cooperation among farmers.

"What's good for the grain farmer in turn is good for the dairyman or the cattle farmer," said Mellinger. The Pennsylvania Farmers in agricultural education. These each received $75.

The judges were Dr. Daryl K. Heasley and Dr. James H. Mortensen of the College of Agriculture faculty and Ms. Patricia Milford of McLean, Va., graduate student in speech communication.

Union has about 4300 members, and dairying is the major agricultural industry in the state.

Also on hand from Pennsylvania is Norman Hutchinson, manager of the Farmers Union Milk Producers Cooperative. Representing Pennsylvania Farmers Union as delegates to the national convention are Irk McConnell of McDonald, Pa., and Ivan Himes of Brookville.

By virtue of his position as state chairman, Mellinger sat on the NFU policy drafting committee, helping draft a broad-based program of policy and action for consideration by delegates later in the convention.

"Generally, we very much support the family-farm concept, and the 100 percent of parity goals of Farmers Union," says Mellinger. "We, of course, feel strongly that agricultural producers today are not receiving fair prices and we as an organization of farmers are trying to do something about that."

U.S. Senator Frank Church of Idaho; U.S. Senator Robert Dole of Kansas; Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland; Secretary of the Interior Cecil Andrus; and Kathleen O'Reilly, executive director of the Consumer Federation of America, were among speakers for the meeting.

Infinitesimal

An astronomer once remarked to Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

"To an astronomer, man is nothing but an infinitesimal dot in an infinite universe"

"An interesting point of view," the bishop remarked "But you seem to forget that your infinitesimal dot of a man is still the astronomer"

Lickin' Good

Nutrena Controlled Release CLS — so different, it's patented

Your cattle will like Nutrena Controlled Release CLS and you'll like the benefits behind this new development in liquid supplements. The patented process controls the release of protein-building ammonia nitrogen in the rumen compared with a conventional urea-based liquid supplement. This improves the feeding efficiency of the urea. And, the slow-down means an extra margin of safety from urea toxicity—that's important when self-feeding liquid supplement.

Nutrena Controlled Release CLS liquid supplement—a product of Cargill research. It's great for dairy herds as well as beef cattle on range, pasture, stalks, stubble or in the feedlot.
